HISTORY AT CENTURION: INDIA CONQUERS SA STRONGHOLD

Visitors win by 113 runs, become only the third visiting team after England and Australia to win Test at Supersport Park

KOHLI & CO BREAK RAFT OF RECORDS

The Test team under the leadership of Kohli ticked another box in their claim to be the best Test team in the world. The skipper became the first Indian captain to win two Tests in the Rainbow Nation. This win is a continuation of their excellent overseas Test record. They have now won Tests in England, Australia and South Africa in a single year | P15

BOWLERS AT IT AGAIN

- When Jasprit Bumrah caught Dean Elgar in front to leave the hosts at 5/130, the momentum changed. Shami, Siraj and Ashwin all picked wickets as SA lost the last six wickets for 61
- This is just India's fourth win in South Africa. They now have the chance to become the first Indian side to win a series there

Congress lashes out at election commission, says it ought to have consulted experts and not politicians before taking the final call

All parties want UP polls on time: CEC

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

CHIEF Election Commissioner (CEC) Sushil Chandra on Thursday ruled out deferring the upcoming polls in Uttar Pradesh saying all political parties have urged the poll panel to hold elections as originally planned. The poll notification will be announced in the first week of January, the CEC added.

The Congress, however, said the delegation that met the EC on Tuesday was "not authorised". During the interaction with the EC, the party's three-member delegation had reportedly favoured conducting polls as per original schedule.

Sushil Chandra

Later, the party changed its stance and took exception to the CEC's statement saying that only the Central government, not the political parties, has the details about the Covid situation. Congress chief spokesperson Randeep Singh Surjewala said that being an autonomous body, the EC should have consulted experts, asked for data from the Central government and then taken an independent decision rather than acting like a 'toothless tiger'. "Constitutional responsibility of elections lies solely with Election Commission of India," he added.

The Allahabad High Court had on December 23 suggested that the Centre defer the UP election in view of a possible Omicron-led third Covid wave. The CEC, while interacting with reporters in Lucknow on Thursday, said the representatives of all political parties had met the panel demanding that the polls be held as per schedule with Covid protocols in place. He said the parties also gave their views on imposing restrictions on public rallies.

"I have been told 86% of people in the state have got the first dose and 49% the second shot of Covid vaccine. We have been assured that in 15-20 days, all eligible people will get their first dose. We have asked for increasing vaccination," he added. Chandra said the voting time would be increased by one hour from 8 am to 6 pm. The CEC said 11,000 additional polling booths would be set up across UP to avert crowding. "VVPATs will be installed at all voting booths. Live webcasting facilities will be available at around 1 lakh voting booths to ensure transparency," he said.

Worrying trends

The Centre on Thursday said Maharashtra, West Bengal, Tamil Nadu, Delhi, Karnataka and Gujarat are emerging as states/UTs of concern amid a rise in Covid-19 cases. More than 20 districts are reporting high test positivity rates. A look

13,154 cases India has reported more than 10,000 daily cases after 33 days. Maharashtra alone saw 5,368 fresh Covid cases on Thursday, while West Bengal reported 2,128

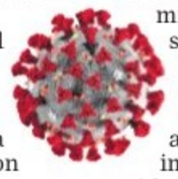
Mix or not? No decision yet on 3rd jab

SUMI SUKANYA DUTTA @ New Delhi

THE Centre hasn't yet decided which vaccine will be used in the booster dose for healthcare and frontline workers and people aged 60 and above with comorbidities. But the head of the ICMR said recommendations will be available before January 10, when the administering of third doses is scheduled to begin.

Balram Bhargava, director general of the ICMR, said in a press briefing on Thursday that meetings are being held to examine locally available data.

Members of the Covid working group of the National Technical Advisory Group on Immunisation have been discussing the number of people eligible for the third jabs, options of vaccines available, new vaccines and whether it will be the same or different vaccines.



Inputs from the National Expert Group on Vaccine Administration for Covid-19 and the Drug Controller General of India (DCGI) will also be taken on the booster shot.

On December 25, Prime Minister Narendra Modi said booster doses for those aged 60 and above would require a doctor's prescription. Later, the Centre dropped the prescription clause.

There is no clarity yet on whether the government is going to adopt mixing of vaccines. Only limited data exists in India on the immunogenicity and safety of mixing. Earlier this year, a study on 98 people by the National Institute of Virology suggested that mixing Covishield and Covaxin provided better immunity than two doses of either alone, and it was more effective against variants.

The DCGI had earlier approved a larger study on mixing by Christian Medical College, Vellore, but results haven't been released yet.

Bandh off after CM holds talks with activists

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

CHIEF Minister Basavaraj Bommai's meeting with leaders of pro-Kannada organisations bore fruit, as he could convince them to call off the Karnataka bandh that was scheduled for Friday to demand a ban on the Maharashtra Ekikaran Samiti (MES). The Kannada activists have, however, threatened to call for a bandh on January 22 if the organisation is not banned by then.

Despite pressure from various quarters not to hold a bandh on December 31 and many organisations not extending support, the pro-Kannada organisations had stuck to their guns. But, as pressure mounted, there was disagreement among those who had called for the bandh. P7

Hint of anti-incumbency for BJP in ULB polls

DEVARAJ B HIREHALLI @ Bengaluru

THE Opposition Congress has fared better than the ruling BJP in the December 27 elections held for 58 urban local bodies across Karnataka, the results of which were announced on Thursday. Of the 1,184 wards which went to polls, the Congress won 501, leaving the BJP far behind at 433 seats. The JDS has clinched 45 wards while 195 Independents also won.

The BJP clinched majority in 14 ULBs including in Chikkamagaluru, Gadag-Betageri and Hebbagodi (Bengaluru) whereas the Congress got majority in 15 ULBs including Bankapura and Guttala town panchayats in Shiggaon Assembly segment in Haveri district represented by Bommai, Yaksamba in Belagavi, Nayakanahatti in Chitradurga and Kukanuru in Koppal district giving the jitters to ministers Shashikala Jolle, B Sriramulu and Halappa Achar, respectively who represent the Assembly seats. Districts to be ranked, projects get major push

AT the fag end of the calendar year, Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai gave a push for implementation of key projects at the grassroots level.

On Thursday, he announced that the government will soon come up with a ranking system to gauge the performance of Zilla Panchayats (ZPs) and their Chief Executive Officers (CEOs).

In a marathon meeting with the officers, the CM instructed them to strictly monitor the progress of Centrally-sponsored projects like the Jal Jeevan Mission and Mahatma Gandhi Rural Employment Guarantee Scheme, and asked the officers to get out of their comfort zones, visit villages three days a week to understand and solve people's problems. On Friday, the CM is holding a meeting with district deputy commissioners.

The officers were informed that the government had taken malnutrition among children very seriously and directed them to conduct a survey of malnourished children and come up with a comprehensive programme to address the problem.

STORIES THAT CHANGED LIVES

In yet another Covid year, TNIE strived to lend a voice to the voiceless. Looking back, here's a list of some of the stories that had a lasting impact on the lives of many

Salaries on time (Nov)

TNIE had reported a delay in payment of salaries to employees at the dialysis unit of the Udupi district government hospital in Udupi. The report had highlighted how patients would be inconvenienced if the dialysis centre stops functioning. After TNIE published the report, activists held a protest and the government released grants and salaries were paid.

Jan Aushadhi Kendras sans pharmacists (Oct)

After TNIE carried a story 'Jan Aushadi Kendras sell drugs without in-store pharmacist, Pharmacists' association complains' on Karnataka State Registered Pharmacists' Organisation alleging that kendras were selling drugs in the absence of registered pharmacists, state Drug Controller Bhagoji Khanapure ordered an inquiry. If irregularities are proved, action has to be taken as per the law and a report must be submitted, the order read.

Path to school made easy (Feb)

Students and teachers of government primary school in Vignana Nagar near KR Puram now need not jump over a compound wall to enter the premises. After TNIE highlighted their woes (Hop, skip and jump takes new meaning at this school), Revenue Department officials, led by Tahsildhar Ajith Rai, demolished a portion of the wall to provide easy access.

Finally, a toilet! (Aug)

TNIE carried a story highlighting the plight of a Class 7 girl because her family doesn't have access to a toilet after her school was shut due to lockdown. Following the story 'With no toilet, this school girl is stressed, malnourished', Shivamogga Corporation Commissioner Chidananda Vatare sent an engineer to the spot. Mayor Sunitha Annappa took up the issue and the corporation is constructing a public toilet.

Skier receives funds to shape her dreams (Oct)

Kodagu girl Bhavani Thekkada Nanjunda received Rs 2 lakh from the state following a report published in TNIE. On October 25, TNIE had published a story highlighting her achievements in skiing. Bhavani had shared her dream of taking part in the Winter Olympics, but she said how there was a dearth of support. The print story went viral on Twitter. Sports Minister KC Narayana Gowda assured support for Bhavani. On December 2, she received a cheque from the state.

Ensuring minimum wages (Oct)

TNIE published a story 'Paid less wages, allege MGNREGA workers' about workers employed under MGNREGA at Kadoli, near Belagavi, being paid just `100 as against `289 per day fixed by government. The Lokayukta initiated suo motu proceedings by considering it 'maladministration'. The DC and ZP CEO were directed to secure the details of the payments made under MGNREGA with reference to each panchayat located in the district with regard to the actual work executed, payments made and names and addresses of the workers.

TRAFFIC COPS HAVE EYE ON ROAD TO TRACK UNPAID FINES

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

NOW, if you thought you could avoid traffic fines and move about freely in the city, the cops will still get you! The traffic police has embarked on a modernisation drive, which will incorporate a system that can capture the registration number of any vehicle on the road even at night, along with a list of violations and pending fine payments.

Within minutes, the traffic police at the next signal would then be able to apprehend the offender.

It is common knowledge that there are hundreds of vehicles which are moving about freely, although there are fines against them.

Inaugurating an event about modernisation here, Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai encouraged the traffic police department to modernise technologically.

Home Minister Araga Jnanendra said the traffic fines due from vehicles in Bengaluru are in the range of a few hundred crores. He said there are nearly 90 lakh registered vehicles, and at any given time, there are about 18-20 lakh vehicles on the road. He said the traffic fine enforcement system automatically identifies vehicles and the fine due in a fraction of a second. He said they are able to identify stolen vehicles too instantly, and said technology is a big game changer as far as traffic enforcement is concerned. He said over Rs 33 crore has gone into the modernisation drive.

Meanwhile, Bommai launched various technology-based services for smooth traffic movement. The CM launched facilities such as body cameras for traffic police, automatic number plate recognition (ANPR) cameras, SMS challan systems on traffic rule violations, and My Maps apps. Jnanendra laid the foundation for a playground and inaugurated an updated gymnasium at City Armed Reserve (CAR) headquarters.

2021 was a strange year when hospitals were full and schools were empty. TNIE photographers captured vignettes from the year gone by

A bus to reach their school (Sept)

After TNIE reported the hardship the children of Kokkaragundi village in Gadag district were facing with no means to reach their school, the North Western Karnataka Transport Corporation came to their rescue. TNIE highlighted the plight of the children who had to walk 5 km and cross two streams to reach their school.

An end to child labour (Aug)

Karnataka State Human Rights Commission on August 9 issued notices to the commissioners of the Labour Department and Social Welfare Department and the Ramanagara SP on the issue of deployment of children as labourers near Shettihalli railway station. The commission said it had initiated suo motu proceedings on August 4 based on the report in TNIE, 'Contractor held for child labour'.

Saviour of water bodies (Oct)

Initiating suo motu proceedings based on TNIE report, 'Oily discharge from Mangaluru refinery polluting water bodies', the Lokayukta directed the authorities to take immediate steps to prevent Mangalore Refinery and Petrochemicals Ltd from discharging effluents into water bodies. TNIE report highlighted that MRPL discharged blackish oily water into a stormwater drain contaminating Thokur stream and the Phalguni.

A chance to write exam (Dec)

Not just KPSC aspirants in Kalaburagi who missed their exams due to late-running trains, but even those who missed them in Bengaluru, or anywhere else due to train-related issues, could appear for the KPSC re-exam on December 29. TNIE had highlighted the issue in a report. Nearly 200 students came to Bengaluru on two trains from Kalaburagi, Bidar, Raichur and Sedam, that reached Yeswanthpur and KSR railway stations late. Some of them had approached the commission the same day but got no response, and later contacted TNIE.

PETER VIDAL

31st December : I keep meeting people who are convinced that space aliens have landed and are living amongst us. I have to say that I suspect that all that has happened is that some of the gods and mythical creatures of the past have been reinvented as creatures from distant parts of the universe, but that doesn't make them any more real!

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
There is bound to be an almighty row over finances, although if you're lucky, it will be delayed until next week by which time you'll have had a chance to put matters right. Overspending and unrealistic ambitions may be to blame but, then, unless you think big, you'll never get anywhere.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
It's good to stick to your principles but, as you know, you can be a little too obstinate. If recent events haven't taught you the value of flexibility and compromise, nothing will. At home, go for total change, just in case you had any doubts. The best advice comes from those in the know, so ask!

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
You may still be adjusting to the fact that, after a number of years, you are no longer the centre of attention. In many ways this change reflects a shift in your self-image rather than any real alteration in your circumstances. That will make it much easier to cope with.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
Your famous Cancerian reserve stems not so much from a lack of feeling as from a failure to express those very considerable emotions that inhabit your unconscious. Try to be more direct in future. Because, if you're not, other people will be! That's for sure.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
Venus, Mercury and Neptune, those three sensational planets, are still occupying significant positions. With any luck, the pressure and uncertainty which they have brought into your life should now be in their final stages. And hopefully you should soon feel fitter.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
The Sun is decisively altering its relationship to Mercury, your ruling planet, but in many respects the heat may still be on. In particular, take into account just how desperate an acquaintance or business partner is to hear from you: sit down and listen!

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
The week may be drawing to a close but there are indications of a last-minute panic at work, prompted by events for which you may or may not be responsible. In any event, you'll be required to deal with the consequences in your usual inimitable, charming style.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
Often, it's surprisingly difficult to cope with good fortune, if only because of the inevitable adjustments to a new routine which must follow. Don't let such considerations blind you to your current opportunities, or to an offer made by a close relation.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
It cannot be stressed too highly that Mercury, situated as it is in a realistic sector of your solar chart, is providing you with protection and guarantees that you'd be a fool to ignore. All areas of your life may benefit. And I honestly believe that they will.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
Your current planetary patterns are bound to exacerbate certain irritations, yet it's at such times that you are driven to implement improvements in your circumstances and relationships that would otherwise inevitably be delayed indefinitely.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
After many ups and downs, you may now look forward to a period in which you'll be able to appreciate past achievements in an atmosphere of calm rather than one of strife and antagonism. On the other hand, if you accept that anything new is probably better than the life you're leaving behind, you'll get on so much better.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
You can afford to be pleased with all the prizes and rewards you've won in the past and, if you are fair to yourself, you must admit that these are considerable. There's every reason to rest on your laurels, and none to join in the problems created by partners.

ONLY MILD SIDE-EFFECTS LIKELY IN KIDS GIVEN COVAXIN SHOT

Fever, pain at jab site, body ache expected; health workers trained to handle adverse events

RANJANI MADHAVAN @ Bengaluru

FROM January 3, Covaxin will be administered to the paediatric population aged between 15 and 18 years. Doctors say Covaxin has so far shown minimal effects in adults, and the public can expect mild reactions in children, such as pain at the injection site, mild fever, body ache, swelling, etc, similar to what was seen in adults.

"No adverse events have been reported. However, whenever any vaccine is administered, Anaphylaxis (adverse effects) can be expected. The state and central governments, as well as pediatricians, experienced this when they undertook the MR (Measles Rubella) vaccination campaign.

Hence, all health workers are trained and well-equipped for such an event," said Dr Basavaraj GV, Professor of Paediatrics, Indira Gandhi Institute of Child Health.

Adverse reactions include skin rashes, breathing difficulty, low BP, pain in abdomen, vomiting, which so far has not been seen in Covaxin. Beneficiaries are usually made to wait for 30 minutes at the vaccination site to address any such reactions. These are rare, and intramuscular adrenaline injections are administered immediately to reverse the reaction

We have the technology of killed vaccines since the past 100 years, and it's time-tested. Most of these killed vaccines do not elicit major side-effects and are unlikely with Covaxin, when administered to children, pointed out Dr Srikanta J T, Consultant - Paediatric Interventional Pulmonology and Sleep Medicine, Aster CMI Hospital.

"Fever and body ache can be expected. However, there is not a lot of data published by the government on vaccine efficacy and side-effects, but because we deal with a lot of killed vaccines, we know the side-effects are limited. No deaths have been reported until now. Hopefully, it will not be a major problem henceforth," Dr Srikanta added.

Bharat Biotech, the maker of Covaxin, in its fact-sheet announced at the beginning of India's Covid-19 vaccination campaign, that side-effects include injection site pain, swelling, redness, itching, headache, fever, body ache, nausea, vomiting and rashes. Their factsheet also said that severe allergic reaction, and side-effects may occur.

Big jump in cases, state crosses 700-mark after 3 months

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru:

AFTER a 37.10 per cent increase in the day's Covid-19 cases from Tuesday to Wednesday, cases once again jumped from 566 to 707 on Thursday. The last time cases crossed the 700-mark was towards the end of September. The state tally stands at 30,06,505.

Active Covid-19 cases in the state crossed the 8,000-mark on Thursday, increasing from 7,771 to 8,223. Since November 25, active cases have been fluctuating, but have been on an upward graph.

In Bengaluru, the day's cases crossed the 500-mark, with 565 new cases. The last time the city recorded over 500 cases was towards the end of July.

As per BBMP war room data, the 6-day positivity rate in Bengaluru has been increasing. Between December 16 and December 22, it was at 0.45 per cent, but between December 23 and December 29, it increased to 0.74 per cent. Active cases in the capital too have been increasing since November 25, and now stand at 6,846.

With three deaths, the state toll rose to 38,327.

FRESH ORDER

Night curfew begins at 10pm, ban orders in place from 6pm

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

BENGALURU City Police imposed additional restrictions in view of the New Year celebrations on Friday. As per the revised order, prohibitory orders will be in place from 6pm on Friday till 5am on Saturday.

While there are no changes to restrictions imposed earlier, including night curfew, the revised order has been issued to ensure that not more than four persons gather at public places such as main roads, open areas, parks, grounds etc. to celebrate New Year.

"However, malls, pubs, bars and restaurants can operate till night curfew begins at 10pm, without holding specials events like DJ or dance performances, in compliance with existing restrictions. It is advised that people reach their homes by 10pm, but the movement of those leaving at 10pm, like staff and others, will be taken into consideration for some time after night curfew comes into effect," a senior police officer said.

In-house celebrations in residential complexes and private clubs may be held without organising any special events, the order stated.

SECURITY MEASURES IN PLACE

Police have taken elaborate security measures to avoid any untoward incidents on New Year's Eve. A senior police officer said they have instructed all hotels and pub owners to follow Covid-19 guidelines, and that strict action will be taken against the staff if they violate the norms. In Central Division alone, 1,200 police personnel have been deployed to monitor law and order on Friday night. Police will patrol areas like Residency Road, St Marks Road, Church Street, Marathahalli, Indiranagar and Koramangala, among other localities that have a large number of pubs, restaurants, bars, and clubs. Flyovers and elevated corridors are closed to avoid accidents, speeding and wheelies. To crack down on drink and drive cases, police have identified about 150 checkpoints.

PUBS, HOTELS CAN STAY OPEN TILL 10PM: PANT

Bengaluru's Police Commissioner Kamal Pant tweeted on Thursday evening that hotels, pubs, clubs and business establishments can remain open till 10pm on Friday. This is confusing because an earlier government notification says curfew begins at 10pm, and people should be home by then. One Bengalorean told TNIE that if the timing issue is not cleared at the highest level, unscrupulous elements could use it to harass common people on the roads.

TOP RANKING

KIIT Tops ARIIA Ranking Once Again

It is yet another big leap forward towards self-reliance by the KIIT Deemed be University that barely requires an introduction. Or in the sequel to its usual strides at edging past many, KIIT DU has surpassed others to emerge as no 1 among all the self-financing institutions in the Atal Ranking of Institutions on Innovation Achievements (ARIIA), 2021 for the second time in a row.

Landmark Strides:

The Ranking was declared on 29th December 2021 by Dr. Subhas Sarkar, Minister of State for Education, Ministry of Education, Govt. of India in the presence of Prof. Anil D. Sahasrabudhe, Chairman, AICTE; Dr. M. P. Poonia, Vice Chairman; and Mr. Rakesh Ranjan, Additional Secretary, Technical Education, Govt. of India. Chitkara University, Chandigarh, and Lovely Professional University, Punjab have bagged the 2nd and 3rd ranks respectively.

ARIIA is an initiative of the Ministry of Education, Govt. of India to systematically rank all major higher educational institutions and universities in India on indicators related to "Innovation and Entrepreneurship Development " amongst students and faculties.

Dynamism Driven By Innovations:

It is no mere accomplishment that the KIIT has been ranked No. 1 among self-financing institutions of the country for two consecutive years. KIIT Deemed to be University, recognized as an 'Institution of Eminence' by the Govt. of India, has achieved the top place in this prestigious rankings due to its innovation and entrepreneurship centers, advanced laboratories, centers of excellence, collaborations with industries and international institutions. Known for its student-friendly culture, it lays high emphasis on involving students in research, development, and innovation activities.

WHEN THE FOOT WENT INTO THE MOUTH

Prominent public figures suffered 'slip of the tongue' syndrome, and more often than not, had to eat their words

BASAVARAJ BOMMAI

CM Bommai kicked up a row when coastal Karnataka was gripped by back-to-back incidents of 'moral policing'. When reporters sought his reactions to BJP MLA Umanath Kotian escorting two of the accused from the police station, Bommai defended him, saying, "If sentiments are hurt, then reaction is bound to happen." The statement came under severe attack, with many saying it is justification of moral policing.

KR RAMESH KUMAR

Senior Congress leader and former Assembly Speaker KR Ramesh Kumar stoked a controversy with his remark in the Assembly, "When rape is inevitable, one should lie down and enjoy it.' He made this statement when MLAs were demanding more time to speak on flood devastation. His comments drew angry responses from his own party colleagues.

ARAGA JNANENDRA

Karnataka Home Minister Araga Jnanendra put the onus on the Mysuru gangrape survivor when he said the complainant should not have gone to the deserted place. When opposition parties were demanding a probe, he said "rape has happened there (in Mysuru), but the Congress is trying to rape me".

HAMSALEKHA

The music composer commented on Pejawar mutt late seer Vishvesha Theertha Swamiji, saying the latter had visited a Dalit's house, "He sat there, but would he be able to eat if he were served chicken or lamb?''

DR K SUDHAKAR

Health Minister Dr K Sudhakar, delivering a speech at Nimhans, stated that many modern women in India want to stay single, and even if they do get married, they don't want to give birth, but prefer surrogacy.

NALIN KUMAR KATEEL

Karnataka BJP State President Nalin Kumar Kateel called former Congress president Rahul Gandhi a "drug addict" and "drug peddler" at a BJP event in Hubballi. Kateel also said that Rahul Gandhi should have been in jail, and even the KPCC president is out on bail.

KS ESHWARAPPA

The RDPR Minister said that in the past, when Rashtriya Swayamsevak Sangh workers tried to open a unit in Kerala, they were assaulted, and were advised to remain calm. Now, the situation has changed as their strength has gone up. "If someone attacks any BJP or RSS worker, we tell our workers to face them with the same stick," he said.

TEJASVI SURYA

At a programme held at Sri Krishna Mutt in Udupi, the Bengaluru South BJP MP had made a controversial statement on reconversion of "those who left the Hindu fold". The MP had stated that "those people who have left their mother religion for various socio-political-economic reasons over the course of India's history, those who have gone out of the Hindu fold must be brought back into the Hindu faith". He had also stated that mutts and temples should have yearly targets on reconversions. After being criticised, he unconditionally withdrew his statements.

CHETAN AHIMSA

Actor Chetan's tweet, "Brahminism is negation of the spirit of Liberty, Equality, Fraternity. We must uproot Brahminism..." had led to an FIR being filed against him. He had stated that Brahminism had killed the ideas of Basava and Buddha, and that Buddha had fought Brahminism.

UMESH KATTI

Food and Civil Supplies Minister Umesh Katti had drawn flak when he declared that families which own TVs and two-wheelers should surrender their BPL cards. This triggered a controversy, with the Opposition demanding an apology.

CT RAVI

BJP National General Secretary CT Ravi, who was insistent about renaming Indira Canteen as 'Annapoorneshwari Canteen', invited controversy by stating, "Let Congress open Indira Canteen or Nehru Hookah Bar in its office..."

DKS, Siddu to go on unity tour in Mysuru

ENS @ Mysuru

IN a bid to put up a show of unity and galvanise party workers, KPCC president DK Shiva Kumar and Opposition leader Siddaramaiah will tour both Mysuru and Chamrajnagar districts. The two leaders will rally the party and the public to join the 10-day Mekedatu padayatra, which is slated to kick off on January 10.

KPCC working president R Druvanarayan said thousands of Congressmen from Chamarajnagar will be part of the padayatra that will depart from Mekedatu, passing through Kanakapura, Ramanagara and Kergeri to reach Bengaluru. The implementation of the balancing reservoir project will help quench the thirst of parched areas of Bengaluru and other districts, enhance hydel power generation, and will also benefit Chamrajnagar.

He said both the leaders will interact with party workers. Druvanarayan also urged the government to start the Government Law College in the district and construct an agriculture college building at its Agriculture University Research and Extension Centre. Congress MLA Yathindra Siddaramaiah said the KPCC president and Opposition leader will visit Mysuru on January 3 and chair a meeting at Congress Bhavan. He said that the party will take out a rally from Basaveshwara Circle to Congress Bhavan, which will be attended by over five thousand workers.

It may be recalled that the Siddaramaiah had expressed displeasure over the KPCC chief's plans to tour the Mysuru district alone.

SDPI gets toehold in coastal ULBs

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE results of the 58 ULBs announced on Thursday have thrown up a new trend: the Social Democratic Party of India (SDPI) has shown some promise, especially in the coastal region, by winning as many as six seats.

Three of its candidates won in Kaup town municipality, and one each from Vittla and Kotekar town panchayats. Another huge win was recorded in the City Municipal Council of Chikkamagaluru, where a minority and Dalit combination worked. The Dalit member, Manjula, took the seat.

With a similar strategy, the SDPI may also field candidates in the BBMP polls, which may affect the chances of the Congress. Dr C S Dwarakanath, Congress leader and former chairman of the Backward Classes Commission, admitted that this may split the Congress vote base.

In the recently held polls to the Karnataka Legislative Council, the SDPI candidate in Dakshina Kannada garnered over 1,200 votes. The party may also field candidates in ZP/TP polls and the 2023 assembly polls, sources said.

Cong need not be overjoyed, says CM

THE JDS could manage only the Bidadi town municipality in Ramanagara district. The remaining 28 ULBs witnessed fractured mandate and the Independents will hold the key in forming the ruling dispensation.

If these results and the outcome of the MLC polls are any indication, the anti-incumbency factor seems to be growing against the ruling BJP in Karnataka as most of the ministers including Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai faced a setback on their home turf.

Reacting strongly, Bommai maintained that the BJP has performed well in Gadag-Betageri ULB and ought to do well in other ULBs as well. "In some of these places, including Bankapura and Guttala ULBs, which are dominated by minority voters, the BJP has not done well. However, we never show any disparity as regards development," he stated.

Responding to Opposition leader Siddaramaiah's remarks that the BJP's base is shaky, Bommai said the Congress has no base at all. "The Congressmen need not be overjoyed by winning a few seats in some CMCs in the minority bastions," he suggested.

Zilla panchayat CEOs to face music for red tape

BOMMAI said there is a need for revising the parameters and coming up with special programmes to improve nutrition levels. "Implementation of programmes and projects at the grassroots level is very important. You have been vested with more powers with decentralisation. Use your discretion with care for the welfare of the people. The government will fully back the decisions taken in the interests of the poor," the CM told officers.

The CM sent a strong message, stating that the CEO will be held responsible for any failure in implementation of programmes and action will be taken against them. Red tape and delay tactics could cost them dearly. The officers should introspect their functioning and correct their shortcomings, the CM said. They were also asked to send monthly reports on the status of projects to the CM and the ministers concerned.

The CM pointed out that if more people approach the officers, it is an indication that the system is not working properly at the grassroots level. Surprise visits should be carried out to inspect the progress of welfare projects and they should devise solutions to public problems with a humane perspective. Targets set for implementation of projects like Jal Jeevan Mission, repair of residential school buildings should be achieved within time and officials should give top priority to projects related to education, health and employment generation, the CM stressed.

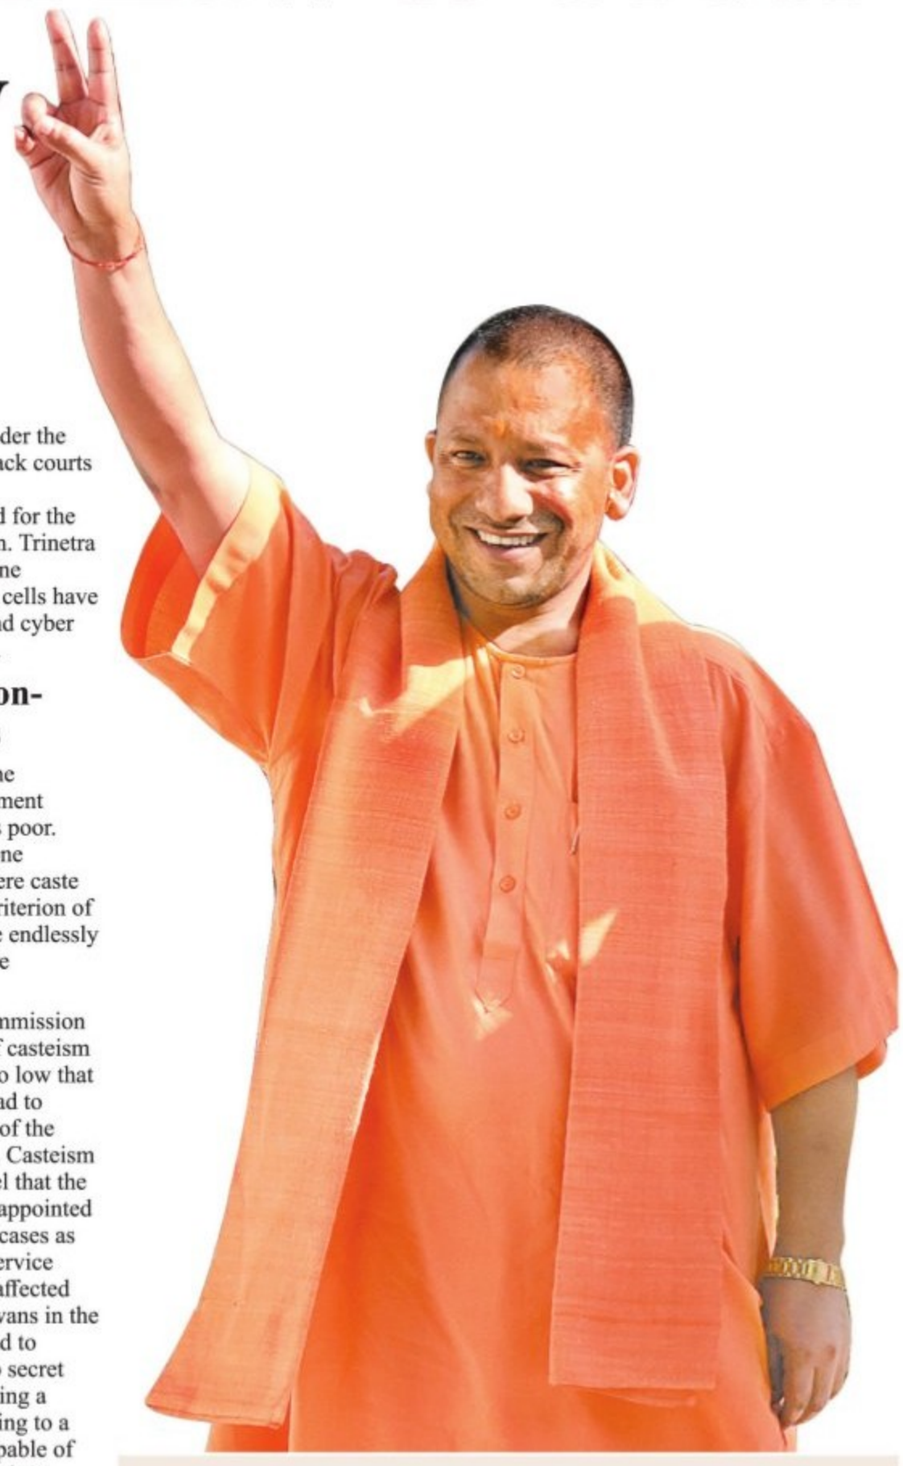
It was also decided in the meeting that RDPR minister K S Eshwarappa and Additional Chief Secretary of the Department will tour the state to inspect the works.

An Eventxpress Initiative

Kaam Dumdaar - Imandaar Sarkar

Uttar Pradesh has witnessed improvement in law and order to ensure peace, security and self-respect of the women, girls, businessmen and the industrialists. Now there is no terror of the mafia and goons. Yogi Adityanath government has immaculately implemented the rule of law and transformed Uttar Pradesh into an industrialized state, a state with requisite infrastructure, a farmer-friendly state and a pioneer state. There is now rule of law and no one is allowed to take things for granted.

Exemplary improvement in Law & Order ensures peace and security



For the past several decades, Uttar Pradesh has been a state where mafia and goons elements flourished under political patronage. By 2017 the situation in the state had become so odd that the girl students and young women wouldn't dare move out of home. Anti-social elements in the state had become so powerful that in some riot-torn areas in the state, majority community had to flee their places and put their houses on sale. There were times that made people think that the state was under control of mafia dons or goons elements with political protection.

Criminals forced to surrender

However, in 2017, the people's mandate to form a new government brought in Yogi Adityanath as the Chief Minister. The change in law and order situations in the state began as soon as Yogi Adityanath took the oath of office and secrecy. As soon as the Chief Minister mentioned improvement in the law & order as his top priority, the police started its campaign against the elements that had been frightening the women, girls and common people. A campaign was started even against the illegal abattoirs across the state. The atmosphere suddenly changed as if a strong wind had blown away the dark clouds looming over the state. As soon as the political protection to criminals was snatched away, the police was able to establish the rule of law. Within a month, the criminals and goons were surrendering before the police or the courts. The return of the rule of law in Uttar Pradesh was exemplary.

Mafia properties seized and destroyed

The government ensured that those seeking favours for the criminals had no access to the power corridors and ruthlessly repressed those elements who dared to disturb the security and peace of the people. The Uttar Pradesh government also defied negative media pressure in the matter of law and order. This led to huge praise for the government on social media and Yogi Adityanath reached the top of the list of most popular Chief Ministers of the country. Yogi Adityanath dominated social media outlets like the Twitter, Instagram, Facebook, WhatsApp, YouTube, etc. Those who managed their popularity on social media through fake accounts were relegated into oblivion.

Administration razing down the encroachment to recover government land from Mafia.

Soon after assuming the post of Chief Minister of Uttar Pradesh, Yogi Adityanath had given clear instructions to the officials that mafia elements had to be eliminated from the state. On this initiative of the state government, Prime Minister Narendra Modi had said, "The Uttar Pradesh government is defeating the intentions of the land mafia who earlier used to grab the land of the poor, deprived, exploited and backward classes. When there is rule of law, there is fear among criminals too, the pace of development accelerates and everyone benefits from it." Chief Minister Yogi Adityanath put it as, "The Uttar Pradesh government is working with zero-tolerance policy against crime and criminals."

It was due to the Chief Minister's strictness against crimes and criminals that the UP Police formed Anti-Romeo Squads to ensure safety and self-respect of the women, particularly the school-going girls. Not only this, the police also initiated strict action against illegal slaughterhouses and illegal mining mafia across the state. A separate law has been framed and implemented to take strict action against those who damaged government property. Under Section 14(1) of the Gangster Act, action has been taken to confiscate illegal property of the mafia. These steps created a different image of the state government not only in the country but also abroad. The visible result of the zero-tolerance policy against crime is that the general public is feeling safe in the state and industrialists are investing here fearlessly.

In the Yogi Adityanath regime, more than 5,500 cases were registered under the Gangster Act and action was taken against more than 22,000 criminals. Also, the state police force is being strengthened. State-of-the-art weapons are being provided to them. A provision of Rs 41,236 crore was made for this. The budgetary provisions for the police department have been doubled during the tenure of the present government. Rs 16,239.92 crore was allocated in the budget for the police department in 2017-18. It has increased to Rs 30,105.98 crore in 2021-22. Meanwhile, 1.43 lakh new police personnel have been recruited. The salary budget for police department was Rs. 13,560.8 crore in 2017-18 that has reached Rs. 23, 156.6 crore in 2021-22.

Many other steps have been taken to improve the police system. Commissionerate system has been implemented in Lucknow, Kanpur Nagar, Varanasi and Noida. 81 separate magistrate level courts and 81 additional sessions courts have been instituted to provide speedy justice to women. Under the POCSO Act, 218 new fast track courts have been set up. A separate organization has been formed for the safety of women and children. Trinetra app has been created for online database of criminals. Cyber cells have been started in all districts and cyber police stations in every zone.

Fair and corruption-free appointments

Just like the law and order, the situation of jobs and employment opportunities in the state was poor. Government jobs were the lone employment opportunity where caste had become the overriding criterion of eligibility. Job aspirants were endlessly frustrated as their efforts were ultimately wasted.

Even, the Public Service Commission of the state was in the grip of casteism and its reputation had gone so low that the High Court of the state had to intervene and order removal of the chairman of the commission. Casteism was at such a deplorable level that the government at that time had appointed a criminal wanted in several cases as the chairman of the Public Service Commission. Casteism also affected the recruitment of 40,000 jawans in the police and the High Court had to intervene there too. It was no secret that foremost criteria for getting a government job were belonging to a particular caste and being capable of greasing the palm of the recruiters.

The Yogi Adityanath government took a stern stand and restored the sanctity and transparency of these institutions to create an atmosphere of hope and enthusiasm among those aspiring for government jobs. Similar steps were taken in the case of recruitment of teachers in the basic education department. A transparent and fair recruitment system was reinstated in the education department to ensure that only eligible candidates got appointed as teachers.

Strict action against the criminals and improvement in general safety and security in the state has helped the law and order in the state become an example for the whole country. An improved ambience has attracted indigenous and foreign investors as the new policies have made UP their favourite destination.

Improved security situations boost investments

The improved law and order in the state has boosted the morale of the industrialists' who are continuously increasing investment in the state. During the Yogi Adityanath regime, projects with investments worth more than Rs 3 lakh crore have been grounded. Resurgence of the agriculture, trade and commerce and MSMEs has doubled the size of the state economy. It was Rs. 10.9 lakh crore before 2017, and now it is worth Rs. 21.73 lakh crore. The state has become the second largest state economy in the country. Of the Rs. 4.68 lakh crore investment proposals received in the investors' summit, projects worth more than Rs. 3 lakh crore have been grounded. An important feature of the investments coming to the state was that even during the Covid-19 affected period, foreign investment worth Rs. 56,000 crore were received. Prime Minister Narendra Modi says, "Today Uttar Pradesh has become a preferred investment destination. Due to better infrastructure and law and order as people feel comfortable and fearless here. Reflecting on the changed environment, the Chief Minister Yogi Adityanath underlines that there is immense potential for industrial activities in Uttar Pradesh. A positive environment has been created here and that is attracting investments from indigenous and foreign investors.

Revolution with innovative ODOP scheme

In its efforts to create greater economic opportunities in the state, the Yogi Adityanath government devised a revolutionary scheme ODOP on the basis of the location-specific unique products available in the state. This scheme opened up innumerable new job opportunities in micro industries operating in these unique products. Most of these opportunities were created in rural areas. The scheme has helped in improving the quality of these products and those are now being marketed across the globe. This has also helped these products fetch remunerative prices even in local markets.

Small and marginal farmers' loans waived

Before the formation of the Yogi government, the farmer of the state was laden with the bank loans. The farming community had been repeatedly demanding the government and other agencies to rid them of the debt. Prime Minister Narendra Modi's promise of waiving these loans was fulfilled with farm loans of 86 lakh small and marginal farmers being waived in the first cabinet meeting of Yogi Adityanath government.

Taking care of citizens in the pandemic

During the worldwide pandemic COVID-19, when the Government of India implemented a strict lockdown for the safety of the common man, lakhs of labourers started returning to Uttar Pradesh from other states. It was an unimaginable sight. No one had ever thought of a situation where private employers would abandon their workers like destitute in that time of crisis the state government came forwards and took care of all the returnees.

Praise from around the world

During such a worldwide crisis, the revenue of the government had fallen drastically as all revenue sources had dried up due to the lockdown. Nevertheless, keeping in mind the dictum 'Kriyasiddhih Satve Bhavati Mahataam Nopkarane (Objectives are achieved with the commitment and the value of means in the effort is insignificant)', Yogi Adityanath made arrangements for the returning migrant workers which became a topic of discussion all over the world. Obstacles like the lack of means and lack of funds for providing shelter, food and clothes, medicine and transporting them safely to their homes amid the fear of spreading the pandemic were conquered.

Every needy got free ration and treatment, farmers were given the opportunity to harvest their crops and arrangements were made to purchase the crop at MSP. In spite of a faltering revenue system, the Yogi government arranged the required funds to save 24 crore people of the state.

Free food grains during disaster

Populist slogan "Peoples' government - At peoples' doorstep" was turned into a reality at a time when it was needed the most. The government which earlier used to remain confined to the secretariat, district headquarters, and tehsil headquarters, for the first time reached the doorsteps of the people with food grains. It could be possible due to the efficient management and encouragement of Yogi Adityanath, the chief minister. People for the first time felt that the government didn't mean to be an authority for extracting taxes from the people but it also meant to be an authority that gives back. Even today, in Uttar Pradesh, the poor are getting 30 kg per person free ration in a month. The government got installed POS (point of Sale) machines at every Fair Price Shop under the Public Distribution System in the state so that the ration can be given to the actual ration card holder and none else.

During the Corona period, 8 lakh metric tonnes of food grains were distributed free of cost among daily wagers, while 88.42 lakh metric tonnes of food grains and 2.69 metric tonnes of gram were distributed free of cost among ration card holders. More than 15 crore people in the state are being given free ration for months.

Fog causes serial accident on Nelamangala highway

Motorists cautioned to drive slow on highways in the mornings

MANJU SHETTAR & BOSKY KHANNA @ Bengaluru

Vehicles involved in the pile-up on Nelamangala highway on Thursday | EXPRESS

TWELVE people were injured and eight vehicles were damaged in a serial accident, due to heavy fog early Thursday morning on the Nelamangala highway. The accident is a grim reminder for drivers to either leave the city late to avoid fog, or drive with fog lights.

All the 12 sustained relatively minor injuries in the pile-up on the busy Nelamangala-Tumakuru highway. With the New Year weekend coming up, many are heading out as the government has imposed night curfew and restrictions due to a spike in Covid-19 numbers.

The pile-up disrupted heavy traffic on the stretch for over two hours. Hundreds of vehicles were stranded on both sides of the highway. Nelamangala traffic police struggled to restore normalcy and had to use cranes to move damaged vehicles and clear the highway.

A senior police officer said the pile-up occurred around 6.30am, when a few vehicles, including two buses and trucks heading towards Bengaluru, collided with each other due to low visibility caused by heavy fog. A truck carrying onions and other vegetables broke down, spilling onions on to the road, leading to further chaos.

The driver and passengers of a bus and two riders escaped with minor injuries, and were taken to Nelamangala government hospital for first aid.

A senior IMD official said visibility usually drops due to presence of fog, which is basically low-level clouds formed when the sky is clear. The presence of water bodies and open spaces in the vicinity determine the density of fog. This is why fog is commonly noticed on the city's outskirts, like Nelamangala highway or towards Devanahalli. Green cover has also increased, due to which formation of fog is leading to a drastic drop in visibility. Officials from the Karnataka State Natural Disaster Monitoring Cell have cautioned drivers to slow down on highways as visibility and fog density changes with location.

IMD officials said visibility at KIA on Thursday morning, between 5.30am and 8.30am, was just 50 metres, while visibility at HAL airport was 800 metres, between 6.30am and 8am.

ONLY METRO PASSENGERS WILL BE FRISKED AT BAIYAPPANAHALLI STATION

S LALITHA @ Bengaluru

IN a public-friendly initiative, the Bangalore Metro Rail Corporation Limited (BMRCL) has streamlined different categories of visitors at the Baiyappanahalli Metro station this week and made frisking of persons and luggage mandatory only for its commuters.

Inside the station, temporary barricades have come up to ensure only those who board Metro trains are subject to frisking. "We have put up temporary ones to study it and also elicit public response. We will be putting up permanent ones in a month's time as the public have responded very positively to it," said an official. The scanners at the station entrance too have been removed and shifted upstairs so that only the baggage of Metro commuters is checked, he added.

Pedestrians from Old Madras Road and C V Raman Nagar, which is located on one side of the station, and those from Ramamurthy Nagar, Kasturi Nagar, Sadananda Nagar and Krishnaiahanapalya on the other side use the spacious walkway passing through the station. Similarly, one can use the Metro station to reach the Baiyappanahalli railway station. So far, anyone stepping into the Metro station had to undergo physical frisking and get their baggage scanned, making it time-consuming.

A S Shankar, BMRCL Executive Director (Operations and Maintenance) told TNIE, "We have made the process easy for all since December 24. Passengers heading to the railway station to board a train can just walk through without any checks. The same applies to those who use our premises to connect with neighbouring areas."

Baiyappanahalli Metro station and the railway station | EXPRESS

Hemavathy N, a private bank employee, who commutes from KGF to Baiyappanahalli for work, said, "This is a big step and really saves time standing in queues to access the railway station. It will also reduce the time lost in security checks for Metro commuters." A security staffer said it reduced a big chunk of work for them as the station was constantly jam-packed with commuters and public.

There was a bit of resistance too, like in the case of K Rajesh, a Ramamurthy Nagar resident, who visits the railway station for evening walks. "I really think checking everyone is good from the safety point of view. It is a safety risk to leave out the public entering a station unchecked like this, he added.

At present, MG Road, Halasuru and Swami Vivekananda Metro stations permit people to cross the roads using the station. All Phase-II stations will have the facility.

Motorists stuck in a traffic jam at Corporation Circle in Bengaluru on Thursday after after pro-Kannada organisations held a massive protest to demand a ban on the Maharashtra Ekikaran Samiti. Will call for bandh on Jan 22: Activist

THE Karnataka Rakshana Vedike (Narayana Gowda faction) held a massive protest in Bengaluru on Thursday, demanding a ban of MES, making it clear that they have withdrawn support for the bandh.

On Thursday evening, leaders of various pro-Kannada outfits, headed by activist Vatal Nagaraj, attended the meeting called by the CM.

After the meeting, pro-Kannada activist Vatal Nagaraj said that following an assurance by the CM, they had withdrawn the bandh. "However, our leaders have decided to call for a Karnataka bandh on January 22 if the MES is not banned by then," he said, adding that a massive rally will be held from Town Hall at 10.30 am on Friday.

Thanking the activists for withdrawing the bandh call, the CM said all business activities will continue as usual. "I have told them that we are all one when it comes to issues related to Karnataka or Kannada language. Also, I have convinced them that the government is reviewing the legal aspects of banning MES," he added.

There was unrest between Karnataka and Maharashtra for more than a week after a few Kannada activists threw black ink on the face of senior MES leader Deepak Dalvi on December 13 while he was attempting to hold a Maha Melava in protest against the Karnataka government for conducting winter session in Belagavi. In retaliation, a Kannada flag was burnt in Kolhapur, leading to protests across Karnataka. This was followed by desecration of statues of Chhatrapati Shivaji and Sangolli Rayanna, following which pro-Kannada outfits had given a call for Karnataka bandh.

Scholar, boyfriend kill ex in front of college

CHENNAI: A 26-year-old doctorate student and her boyfriend were arrested for murder after they stabbed her former boyfriend in front of a private college in Kelambakkam on Thursday. The man was harassing her to marry him and threatened to upload their pictures together on social media, police said. The deceased, K Senthil (43) was a demonstrator in the Physics department of a college in the city. The accused, J Desapriya (26) is a research scholar in the Physics department at a private college and her boyfriend S Arun Pandian (27) is a research scholar in a university. ENS

Stray bullet from firing range hits boy's head

PUDUKOTTAI: A Class 8 boy was critically injured after a stray bullet shot by CISF personnel during training at a firing range at Narthamalai in Pudukkottai district hit him on Thursday. K Pughazendi (11), was at his grandparents' house 2 km from the firing range when he was shot, said police. He is now in the ICU of Thanjavur Medical College Hospital. A doctor said the bullet has been removed from the boy's brain, but he is critical. Pudukkottai Collector Kavitha Ramu has ordered the firing range to be temporarily closed. SP Nisha Parthiban said a probe is on. ENS

Minor girl missing for two months, parents distraught, police clueless

BALA CHAUHAN @Bengaluru

A minor girl has gone missing from her home in Rajajinagar. According to the police, Anushka Verma (17) left her house around 8.30 am on October 31. Her whereabouts are not known yet despite efforts by the police. Her parents lodged a complaint at Subramanyanagara police station and have also taken to social media sites - helpfindanushka on Instagram and on Twitter - seeking information about their daughter.

Anushka's father Abhishek Verma told TNIE that his daughter is influenced and inclined towards Shamanism. "She has some organisational or individual support. We are living in hell, not knowing where and how she is," said the distraught father.

Verma said that on October 31, he and his wife had gone out for a morning walk around 7 am and returned home around 8.15 am. "When we returned, we didn't find Anushka at home. We later came to know through police and CCTV footage that she had taken an autorickshaw to a centre in Horamavu. What happened to her thereafter is not known," he said. Based on the parents' complaint on November 1, the police registered a case under Section 363 of IPC. "Anushka left her phone and all documents, including her marksheets, at home. She took a pair of clothes and Rs 2,000 cash," said Deputy Commissioner of Police (North) Vinayak Patil.

As per the Supreme Court's directive, in case of a missing child, the police are required to register an FIR under IPC section 363 (kidnapping from lawful guardianship) within 24 hours of the complaint. In case the missing child is not found within four months, the case is required to be referred to the district police anti-human trafficking unit. The police have gone through the CCTV footage from her house to Horamavu and beyond, checked at various spiritual centres, orphanages and PG accommodations, spoken to Anushka's friends and family members, checked her phone and mails "but so far, there are no leads," said Patil.

The father added that only after Anushka went missing did the family come to know that she was inclined and influenced by Shamanism. "When the police retrieved data from her phone, we came to know about it," he added.

Shamanism is an ancient healing tradition and is seen as a way to connect with nature and creation. The family has appealed to the public to call on 96638 75821 regarding information on Anushka.

After hubby, daughter held for woman's murder

ENS@ Bengaluru

THE Electronics City police have arrested five more people, including the daughter of Archana Reddy, a 38-year-old woman who was hacked to death in full public view on Monday night. Police said the accused had planned to murder Reddy so that they can take over her properties.

Police had earlier arrested Archana's second husband Naveen Kumar V and a member of a Kannada outfit, Kasavanahalli Santhosh. The five others arrested are Yuvika Reddy, Archana's 21-year-old daughter from her first marriage, and Anup, Anand, Deepak and Narendra. Efforts are on to trace others.

Police said Reddy had frequent fights with her second husband Naveen over financial and personal matters. Naveen had started an illicit relationship with Yuvika, Archana Reddy's daughter from her first marriage, and had started living with her separately. This had led Reddy to file a case against Naveen.

"Naveen, who knew that there are a few properties in his wife's name, decided to take over them and hatched a plot to kill her. He also convinced Yuvika that they can lead a lavish life if they get those properties. He roped in his friends to commit the murder," police added.

Panel nod for additional aid under NDRF

Bengaluru: A High-Level Committee under the chairmanship of Home Minister Amit Shah has approved additional central assistance under the National Disaster Response Fund to Karnataka, that had been badly affected and suffered extensive infrastructural damage and crop loss due to floods and excessive untimely rainfall. The panel approved Rs 504 crore to Karnataka as additional central assistance, over and above the funds released by the Centre to the SDRF. This has already been placed at the state's disposal for the financial year 21-22. It may be recalled that the Centre has released a total of Rs 17,747 crore to 28 states, in addition to Rs 3,543 crore which has been released to seven states from NDRF. It may be recalled that the Centre had deputed 22 inter-ministerial central teams, immediately after the natural calamities, without waiting for a memorandum from the affected state governments. ENS

Cong opposes plan to free temples from govt control

Bengaluru: The Congress on Thursday questioned the State government's decision to bring in law to free temples from government control. KPCC chief DK Shivakumar said the plan to free temples administered by the Muzrai department from government control, is a blunder. Temples are the state's treasure and the government gets several crores in revenue every year, he said, adding that the Congress will not allow the government to bring in such a law. Shivakumar said they will discuss it at a meeting of senior party leaders. CM Basavaraj Bommai had stated that the government would bring in a law to free temples from government control and temple funds will be utilised only for temple development. Some BJP MLAs and activists have been demanding the government come up with plans to use temple funds only for temple development. ENS

NEW OMICRON WAVE HITS FMCG SALES, RURAL MARKETS

There's been a pronounced slowdown in sales of consumer durables and fast-moving consumer goods (FMCGs) after the festive season, particularly in rural markets. Through November, sales of smartphones, TV sets, fridges and washing machines fell 15–20% from the previous month, while FMCG sales of soaps and other personal care products slowed 14%, according to Bizom, a sales automation firm that monitors several million retail stores. Some market watchers put this down as the usual contraction in demand after the festive season and expected a revival from December onwards. However, these hopes have now been belied as latest FMCG estimates show the October-December quarter of the current year slowing 8–10%, compared to last year's third quarter, mainly on stagnating rural sales.

FMCG sales, a bellwether of consumer confidence and the health of the economy, have been limping in urban areas, but were seen as quite robust in the rural hinterland. However, that trend does not seem to be sustaining. Rural demand has slowed as repatriation of funds from urban wage earners to their families at home has not happened. Unseasonal rains too have taken a heavy toll on crops, adversely impacting the cash in hand with farmers. Usually there is a spurt in rural demand after the kharif harvest, which has not happened.

However, the sharpest bite has been on account of the rampaging Omicron variant. New restrictions have been imposed across states that is affecting shopping hours and forcing closures of malls and stores. Cash-and-carry chains in Karnataka said that early closing hours had been imposed, resulting in a loss of two hours of business and translating into a 10–15% fall in sales compared to previous weeks. This is being replicated in all big metros, where the new rise in Covid infections are forcing back the clock on everything from high-street shopping to hospitality and cinema halls. Expecting a fall in demand, wholesale stockists are cutting their inventories and production is beginning to slow. The nightmare staring at retailers and manufacturers seems to have no end in sight. It's going to be another Winter of Discontent.

SHUN VENDETTA, NEED FAIR PROBE IN KERALA

The Christmas night violence involving migrant workers at Kizhakkambalam, on the outskirts of Kochi, has once again pitted Kitex Group's Sabu M Jacob against Kerala's political establishment. The incident, in which the workers housed in the apparel company's labour quarters went on a rampage, attacking cops and burning a police vehicle, has given parties an opportunity to vent their pent-up anger against Jacob, who not only challenged their might with his own political platform but also stood up to the ruling dispensation when faced with threats to his business. It all began when late-night Christmas celebrations by one section of workers at the camp was opposed by another. When Kitex's security personnel failed to control the situation, the police stepped in. But the inebriated workers attacked them—a vehicle was set on fire and eight personnel were injured. So far, 174 workers have been arrested, but the company says only 23 people were involved in the incident and it doesn't even recognise 12 of those arrested, hinting at a conspiracy.

There have been two unwarranted developments since the attack. One, putting the entire blame on Kitex. Two, ostracisation, with feelings bordering on xenophobia, of migrant workers. Ever since Jacob floated Twenty20, a political outfit, in 2015, he has become a persona non grata for parties. His Twenty20 rules the Kizhakkambalam panchayat, besides controlling three other nearby ones. Jacob also earned the ruling LDF's wrath by announcing he won't invest more in Kerala following raids on his company. Unsurprisingly, both the CPM and the Congress have called for tough action against him, saying he's responsible for "nurturing antisocial elements". This is nothing but political vendetta. The incident is a law and order matter and not a labour issue. The government should not use it as a stick to beat Kitex and Jacob with. As far as the ostracisation of migrant workers is concerned, it should be nipped in the bud. Kerala is the only state to use "guest workers" for its 30-lakh-strong migrant workforce. Social harmony and peaceful coexistence should not be put to test due to one stray incident or two. There must be an impartial probe and only those responsible should be punished.

The treasury surplus is a perverse outcome of the FRBM Act. It also points out how our state functionaries have become incarnations of neoliberalism

WHAT PREVENTS STATES FROM SPENDING?

T M THOMAS ISAAC

Former finance minister of Kerala

SOUMYADIP SINHA

While replying to the Supplementary Demands for Grants discussion in the Parliament, the Union finance minister made a startling revelation: As on 30th November 2021, the unspent cash balance surplus of all states was ₹3.08 lakh crore. Out of 28 states, only two states had negative cash balance. Though she did not reveal the name of the states, I can vouch that one was surely Kerala. The southern state's treasury was on ways and means advances almost on a daily basis since the breakout of Covid. It is indeed very strange that even though the RBI had doubled the limits to ways and means advances, most of the states had chosen not to utilise the additional fiscal space and accumulate surplus in the cash balance.

It is the context that makes it scandalous. Covid pandemic resulted in a collapse of employment and income of the labouring population, not only the wage workers but also the self-employed. Even though employment and income generation have seen positive growth, the economy has not climbed back to the pre-Covid levels of 2019–20. People have had to adopt various survival strategies because the transfer from the governments in money and kind were meagre. The Indian government's response has relied more on monetary measures rather than fiscal ones to mitigate loss and stimulate growth.

As a result, there has been a ballooning of household debt for consumption purposes. According to SBI's Ecowrap, the household debts escalated at an astounding rate of 31% per annum between 2018 and 2021. In contrast, between 2012 and 2018 the rural debt was growing only at 15% per annum and urban debt at 7%. With the banks shying away from consumption loans, the households had no recourse other than to borrow from money lenders or their new avatars of NBFCs and MFIs who control most of the SHG networks other than in some states like Kerala. The Centre for Monitoring Indian Economy's (CMIE) Consumer Pyramid Survey clearly indicates a shift away from banks to SHGs in availing credit. A recent survey of indebtedness during Covid indicates that the median rate of interest was around 24%. The usurious interest rate added more misery to the households.

The outcome is out there for everyone to see: Hunger and virus stalked people who died due to lack of oxygen and minimum healthcare facilities or while trekking back to native places. The analysis of sample registration data of birth and death has revealed excess fatalities when compared to pre-Covid years on a scale that would dwarf the colonial period famines. When faced with such a situation, the last thing one would expect from concerned state governments, which are nearer to the people, is to shirk the responsibility to provide support to the people in cash or kind. We are staring at the stark truth—they permitted the money to lie idle in the treasury. Why did states not spend?

The strange phenomenon of treasury surplus emerged around 2000 and was around ₹50,000 crore around 2005. In my first budget speech in 2006, I had spent more than a page dissecting it and vowing that Kerala would never follow the path. Kerala has adopted the stand that the expenditure on education and healthcare should be counted as investment in human resource development and the state was in no way willing to reduce it to meet an accounting rule.

By 2019–20, the treasury surplus had increased to nearly ₹2 lakh crore. The expectations were that under the fiscal stress of Covid, the surplus would evaporate. But it was a great surprise that the Annual Report of RBI revealed that in 2021 March it had increased to nearly ₹2.5 lakh crore. And now, the Union finance minister confirms that after a few months, in November, it scaled a new peak of ₹3 lakh crore. Even the poor states have high surpluses—Bihar ₹17,390 crore; UP ₹19,880 crore; MP ₹11,280 crore; Uttarakhand ₹19,880 crore; Rajasthan ₹5,807 crore and so on. (With reference to 2019–20)

> When faced with a situation like Covid, the last thing one would expect from state governments is to shirk the responsibility to provide support in cash or kind. We are staring at the stark truth—they permitted the money to lie idle in the treasury. Why did the states not spend?

The RBI automatically invests the treasury surplus in 14-day Government of India securities at less than 3.7% interest rate on behalf of the states. Most of the funds would have been from the market borrowings of the state government at around 7%. In a way, the state governments are subsidising the Union government's borrowing program. Instead of bearing this loss, why don't the states spend the money?

States do not spend because there are legal constraints on doing so. The Union government and successive Finance Commissions have forced the states to pass Fiscal Responsibility and Budget Management (FRBM) legislations. Accordingly, states must eliminate revenue deficit and reduce fiscal deficit to 3% of GSDP. The latter target is easily enforced because borrowings by the state governments require prior permission of the Union Government. Eliminating the revenue deficit is a much harder task. Revenue expenditure must be contained within the revenue receipts. No part of the borrowing can be used for meeting revenue expenditure.

Nevertheless, the states have by and large complied with the requirement for elimination of the revenue deficit; and during the four years in 2000s, they were on revenue surpluses. In contrast, the Central government has flouted the law. Its fiscal deficit has always been much above 3% and revenue deficit above 2.5% during the 2000s. This asymmetric impact of FRBM has not deterred most of the states from being more loyal than the king in pursuing fiscal targets. Even under Covid conditions they would not cross the neoliberal "fiscal Lakshmana Rekha" and shy away from utilising the borrowed funds for the welfare of the people in general and health support in particular. The treasury surplus is a perverse outcome of the FRBM Act. It also goes to point out how our state machinery and functionaries have become incarnations of neoliberalism.

IDEOLOGY, A DRIVING FORCE OF HISTORY

CHANDRAN T V

Art critic and author. Teaches art history at the College of Fine Arts, T'puram

Romila Thapar says, "There were, in pre-modern times, a conglomerate of communities, identified by language, caste and ritual, occasionally overlapping in one or the other of these castes but rarely presenting a uniform, universalising form. What is often mistaken for uniformity, namely Brahmanical culture, was only the culture of the elite." It is again the same elite Brahmanical culture, quite self-conscious about its status privilege that comes to dominate the cultural front today by levelling down the religious 'others' that manifest themselves in various folk-ritual cultic practises across the country. Distorting the original meaning, indigenous cultic practises are now mostly performed as Hindu festivals.

Search for the original meaning or message is by no means rooted in the atavistic or antiquarian romanticism but in the deep-rooted interest in looking objectively at our own past and present as well. But the past is not always there to continue the way it was once, not because it is enshrouded in oblivion (though that might be the case generally) but more significantly because the real condition of the invented past may still remain hidden beneath some ideological laundering. Without decoding the ideological meaning ingrained in any social form of behaviour of the past, the real condition submerged will never emerge.

However, every period has been engaged in constructing its ideology, a system of ideas or beliefs and values that seeks to dominate the mind of an individual or a social group. This gives rise to an "unconscious attitude" (Louis Althusser). As the core of a natural object is hidden beneath its surface layer, ideology is thus latent or concealed content but present in every form of cultural product like myth, concept of God, art, language, morality, law, etc. "Ideology speaks of and from a social order, and ideas can be used to justify or legitimise the particular order..." says Romila Thapar. "In many early societies, ideology is incorporated into religious beliefs but articulated in ritual. If ritual is tied to the social order, however, then it can also be seen as the questioning of that order." Therefore, it can be viewed that ideology is not a pale reflection of reality; rather, it is the reality. In other words, ideology always operates to construct reality and so there is no such thing as 'free' from ideology. In this sense, what Althusser says in his exposition on ideology is worthwhile to note: "... ideas or representations that seem to make up ideology do not have an ideal or spiritual existence but a material existence." But the question is, whose material existence does it ultimately serve? It has generally been argued that more often than not, it seeks to gratify the material interest of a dominant group in society. Through an ideological construct or "imaginary representation of the world" found in an ideology, the dominant group seeks to naturalise its ideas and conceals behind it the real intention. The lesser groups in society would also come to accept it, although the fact is that they indeed have their own ideological conception of the world. Often, it happens so when the conduct of the lesser group, as Antonio Gramsci says, is not independent and autonomous, but submissive and subordinate. Later in the course of a historical process, there would emerge a lack of concord between the ideology and its affiliation with the dominant social group, which finally results in heightened conflicts between the dominant and subordinate social groups. Thus, as Romila Thapar observes, "ideology can, in certain circumstances, become the driving force of history".

> Without decoding the ideological meaning ingrained in any social form of behaviour of the past, the real condition submerged will never emerge. ... One who attempts to reconstruct our cultural past by studying myth, ritual or any form of art like music, sculpture, architecture, painting, film, and so on must bear in mind this driving force of history

One who attempts to reconstruct our cultural past by studying myth, ritual or any form of art like music, sculpture, architecture, painting, film, popular prints, posters and so on must bear in mind this driving force of history; he or she must be aware of the "authors of ideological mystification" (Althusser). Otherwise, for instance, documentation and classification of myths and explanation of their thematic content by falling back on syntactical and etymological search or iconographic description and aesthetic evaluation not only reduces those efforts to the fetish of scholarship, but also helps sustain and reassert the ideological mystification of the past. Unfortunately, this is all but happening predominantly in the field of art historical research on various manifestations of Indian sculpture and architecture. It equally applies to the field of research on contemporary art practice that has widened its sphere beyond painting and sculpture, effacing the divide between art and life. Traditional forms of folk-ritual painting or dance are no exception to this line of research. My attempt is, therefore, to analyse the myths (thottams) of a few theyyams in order to foreground new arguments against the way in which they are generally interpreted by the scholars. Keeping pace with it, in the second phase I will be discussing a few remarkable sculptures from Indian history to locate them within the specific historical context in which they served not only artistic or religious function but also the aesthetics of power. We shall see it in the following columns.

Non-renewal unfortunate

This is with reference to FCRA non-renewal lacked finesse, dignity & respect (Dec 30). It is unfortunate that the home ministry declined the FCRA renewal of Missionaries of Charity. Some NGOs are blatantly violating FCRA regulations, but the MoC is a humanitarian organisation that provides parental care to abandoned children, lepers and AIDS patients. The Centre should take a lenient view of the matter. At the same time, the MoC should adopt greater transparency in its working.

Haribandhu Panigrahi, Tarbha

Govt's ulterior motive?

Given the MoC's track record in serving the poor, the destitute and the ailing, the government should have been graceful enough to give the organisation some notice and give it sufficient time to set right the adverse inputs that it might have to address. An outright non-renewal made it seem as though the government was acting on some ulterior motive.

S Balu, Madurai

Mountain out of a molehill

The editorial put things in perspective. The Centre's non-renewal amounted to making a mountain out of a molehill. This is not the way to treat the MoC, which has been rendering yeoman social and humanitarian services to the poor and deprived.

Managing the Covid storm

This is with reference to Reflections on India's economic scenario (Dec 30). The article aptly sums up the economic performance of the nation this year. From having a negative growth to being predicted to be among the fastest-growing economies, India seems to have managed the Covid storm decently. The author has also rightly highlighted the special attention that MSMEs require to bring about sustainability to their growth.

India's historic victory

Hats off to the Indian cricket team for their fantastic win over South Africa by 113 runs in the first Test of the series. It has also become the first Asian team to win a Test match at Centurion. The credit should go to K L Rahul, who scored 123 runs in the first innings and also to the bowlers who performed exceptionally well by dismissing the hosts in less than 200 runs in both the innings.

N A Joseph, Ettumanoor

Conquering the Centurion

By winning the Centurion Test match, India has conquered one more tough frontier. It was a clinical performance and the victory was a team effort. Both batting and bowling performances were strong. The importance of having such a potent pace attack cannot be overemphasised in this context. India is now poised to win this series and underscore the fact that they are the world's leading Test side.

Promote Indian music

The Indian Council for Cultural Relations' request to promote Indian music in flights and airport terminals should be welcomed by all as our music encompasses numerous genres. Many airlines of foreign nations play the music of their country of origin. Once this policy is implemented, there may be protests from passengers about language and genre, but everyone must understand the importance of promoting our music.

More notices to be issued in hate speech case: Cops

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Dehradun

AFTER sending notices to two accused — Jitendra Narayan Tyagi and Annapurna Maa — in the Haridwar hate speech case, the state police will add more names and issue notices, said officials.

"Notices have been sent to Annapurna Maa and Jitendra Narayan Tyagi to appear for questioning. Notice will be sent to the third accused in the FIR, Dharamdas Maharaj. He was not present to receive the notice. More names are likely to be added in the FIR as the investigation progresses," said a senior state police official .

After outrage over video clips from the Dharma Sansad in Haridwar from December 17-19 where anti-minority comments were made and a participant said he would have emptied his revolver in the chest of former PM Manmohan Singh, Uttarakhand police registered a case against Tyagi. Later, the names of Annapurna Maa alias Pooja Shakun Pandey and Dharamdas were added.

The complaint was made by Gulbahar Khan, a resident of Jwalapur area in the district. Haridwar police has registered cases under Section 153 A of the Indian Penal Code.

'Building good ties with Islamic nations Modi's achievement'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

WHAT has been Narendra Modi's greatest achievement during his seven-and-a-half year tenure as India's Prime Minister? As far as diplomatic relations are concerned, former diplomat Captain G Parthasarathy says it has been his ability to build an excellent relationship with Islamic countries, barring Pakistan.

Parthasarathy, who served as the Ambassador of India to Myanmar, High Commissioner of India to Australia, High Commissioner of India to Pakistan and High Commissioner of India to Cyprus at various points, along with former Indian Ambassador to the USA Meera Shankar, were in conversation with The New Indian Express' Editorial Director Prabhu Chawla and senior journalist and author Kaveree Bamzai, in an episode of E-Expressions' Platinum Pride series.

"His (Prime Minister Modi's) greatest achievement is building an excellent relationship with all Islamic countries in the world. He has personally good relations with Iranians and the Arab world, especially with the monarchs," said Parthasarathy, adding that this could benefit in building of better trade relationships. "We also have a good relationship with Sheikh Hasina. Things with Sri Lanka have been steadily improving since Manmohan Singh's time," he said. Both Parthasarathy and Shankar agreed that India's foreign policy, irrespective of governments, has changed according to the requirement of the times and has had continuity.

During the course of the conversation, the duo also touched upon subjects like Pakistan and China and how the countries could potentially affect life for us in India. Pointing out that this is a difficult time for the country, Shankar said, "You have a Russia which has shifted closer to China. You have a China that is tied up with Pakistan for its energy security and access to the Gulf and you have an America which is trying to compete with China which may have also left it a bit late. For India, the choices become fairly difficult."

Parthasarathy, on the other hand, said, "Russians treat us equal to China in defence matters. There is a balancing act. Historically, they don't trust the Chinese. They look at them as the successors of Gengiz Khan." He also reminisced about 1971, when Russia had deployed forces on borders with China and sent a submarine to the Indian ocean.

Adding on the trade relations with China, Shankar said, "India's trade with China is problematic. Until 2002, trade was minimal. Since then it has grown substantially because we have eased up trade restrictions. The deficit that India has with China keeps growing and has caused de-insustrialisation of India's small and medium sectors." She added, "The economic linkage with the US has been beneficial, while the economic linkage with China has provided cheap goods for the middle class and has had a damaging impact on the economy."

Mild now but don't take Omicron lightly, warns Centre

Daily national cases cross 10,000 after 33 days as health secretary asks 6 states to step up prevention, detection & treatment measures

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

WHILE ducking a question on whether rising Covid-19 cases in India are a sign of beginning of the third wave, authorities on Thursday declared that the surge here is part of the global upsurge, likely fuelled by the Omicron variant.

Officials, during a briefing by the health ministry, also said the rise in cases could go on to become "significant" and may not be mild necessarily, as is being speculated.

India on Thursday recorded 13,154 new cases in 24 hours, marking over 10,000 daily cases after a gap of 33 days, as the number of active cases in the country shot past 82,000.

"We are seeing an increase in cases. Our reproduction factor is 1.22 now. As the scenario emerges, we believe it could be a part of global rise in cases, pushed by the Omicron virus," said VK Paul, member-health, Niti Aayog, who heads the national task force on Covid-19.

"Omicron is a highly transmissible variant that perhaps explains the speed of the rise in these cases. The severity issue of the variant is unsettled. Hopefully, it remains mild but can't be taken for granted," added Paul.

On whether the rising numbers should be seen as the start of a third Covid-19 wave in the country, Paul said it is an "emerging" situation. "Where it will go is in our hands and we should not allow the cases to go up," he cautioned.

Earlier in the day, flagging a sudden rise in Covid-19 cases across 14 cities, the Centre wrote to several states, urging them to take quick measures to check the surge. "Take steps now to avoid increased mortality," was the Centre's advice, with officials nudging states to follow Delhi's graded response action as it has imposed several restrictions in the wake of rising test positivity rate and increasing cases.

Union Health Secretary Rajesh Bhushan wrote to the health secretaries of Delhi, Maharashtra, Gujarat, Rajasthan, Kerala and Telangana, asking them to step up mitigation measures and vaccination coverage. While Delhi and Mumbai have shown the maximum spike, other cities, including Gurugram, Chennai, Kolkata, Bengaluru and Ahmedabad, too, are not far behind, said health dep[artment officials.

Covaxin well-suited for 2-18 group, says maker

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

DAYS after the government announced that 15-17 year olds in India will be eligible for Covid-19 vaccine — only Covaxin for now — from January 3, its maker Bharat Biotech on Thursday claimed in a press statement that the vaccine is safe, well tolerated and immunogenic for the 2-18 age group.

Citing data from Phase 2, 3 clinical trials, the company said neutralising antibodies in children, on an average, were found to be 1.7 times higher than in adults. These trials involved 525 participants, categorised into three groups, those aged 12-18 years, kids between 6-12 and those aged 2-6 years, comprising 175 subjects each.

"Clinical trials conducted in the paediatric population between June 2021 and September 2021 have shown robust safety, reactogenicity, and immunogenicity," said the vaccine-maker, adding that the data was submitted to the Central Drugs Standard Control Organisation in October based on which it was approved for the 12-18 group recently.

The company's statement said during the study, no serious adverse event was reported and 374 subjects reported either mild or moderate severity symptoms, with 78.6% getting resolved within a day.

Pain at the injection site, like is the case with most adults receiving the vaccine, was the most commonly reported adverse event. Seroconversion was documented at 95-98%, in all three groups four weeks after the second dose, indicating superior antibody responses in children when compared to adults, as per the statement.

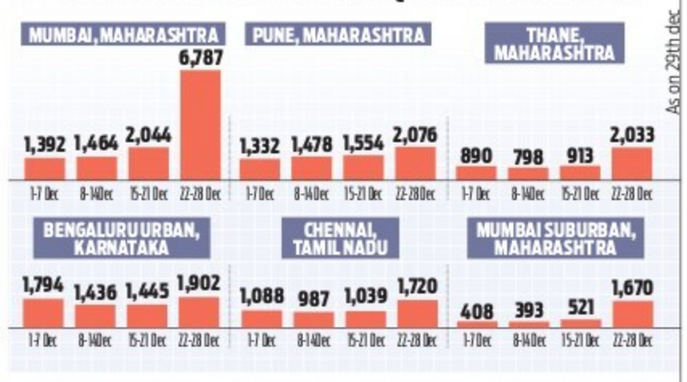
DISTRICTS REPORTING AN INCREASING TRAJECTORY OF CASES COUPLED WITH HIGH QUANTUM OF CASES



Call louder for international flight ban

New Delhi: Chorus to ban International flights have grown amid the rise in Omicron cases in India. West Bengal CM Mamata Banerjee said the Centre must decide on imposing restrictions on flights from countries where Omicron cases are high. Delhi health Satyendar Jain also blamed international air passengers for a spike in Omicron cases. The Omicron case tally has risen to 961, with 263 in Delhi and 252 in Maharashtra.

Mamata rules out total shutdown

Kolkata: Amid a surge in Covid-19 cases in West Bengal, Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee on Thursday ruled out a lockdown in the state, saying it will impact the economy. Her government will suspend all direct flights from the UK from January 3. The state government also said flights from 'at-risk' as notified by the Centre will not be allowed in the state. She has asked officials to ascertain if schools and colleges should remain open.

1 death, 300-plus tally in Jharkhand

Ranchi: Amid a sudden spike in Covid-19 cases in Jharkhand, a 60-year old woman died at a private hospital in Ranchi. Jharkhand had recorded 344 new cases on Wednesday, one of the largest single-day spikes in recent months. Jharkhand had reported more than 300 single-day rise in cases during the second wave in May this year. Of the 344 cases reported on Wednesday, the maximum of 118 were registered in Ranchi.

MP orders care centre in each district

Bhopal: Madhya Pradesh CM Shivraj Singh Chouhan directed that at least one Covid care centre has to be built in each of the 52 districts. Addressing a high-level meeting, the CM asked in-charge ministers of each district to ensure this. He expressed concern over Indore, which reported 55 infection incidents in 24 hours. The state reported 72 cases on a day, highest single-day spike since 84 cases on June 23.

With half of Maharashtra's cases, Mumbai on the guard again

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @ Mumbai

COVID-19 is exploding in Mumbai. More than 50% of active cases of Maharashtra are in the state capital. According to the Maharashtra health department, of 14,000 active cases, 8,060 are in Mumbai. In all, 83,250 persons in Mumbai are under home quarantine.

On Thursday, 3,771 new cases were reported in Mumbai. There were no deaths. Positivity rate was 7.92%. Four slum pockets and 88 high-rises in Mumbai have been sealed due to the rise in cases. Bandra, Andheri, Kurla, Mulund and Dahisar areas are reporting a large number of cases.

An official of Brihanmumbai Municipal Corporation (BMC) claim there may be a rise in cases, but mortality has remained almost zero in the last several days.

"This is the sixth time in December that Mumbai witnessed zero deaths. We are setting up jumbo Covid care centres and other facilities for quick treatment and response," added the official, who did not wish to be identified.

However, Pradeep Awate, Maharashtra's health surveillance officer, said the jump in cases in Mumbai is a sign that community spread has started. He said people must follow protocols strictly. Additional Municipal Commissioner Suresh Kakani said they have sent the samples to check whether Omicron has resulted in community spread or not. "We will get reports soon, then only we can ascertain that community spreading has started in Mumbai," Kakani said.

Maharashtra health minister Rajesh Tope said that Covid-19 cases have been exploding in the last few days in Mumbai. "The state government has imposed a lot of restrictions but people are not following them properly. The citizens should be careful themselves. Or else, there will be a third wave of the pandemic," Tope said. The health minister did not rule out the possibility of the state government being forced to impose lockdown measures again, if the situation does not show signs of improving.

Centre declares Nagaland 'disturbed area' for six months, locals call it insult of rights

PRASANTA MAZUMDAR @ Guwahati

AMID growing demand for the repeal of the Armed Forces Special Powers Act (AFSPA) in the aftermath of civilian killings by the Army in a botched ambush at Oting in Nagaland's Mon district, the Centre on Thursday extended the state's Disturbed Area status vis-a-vis AFSPA by six months.

A notification from Piyush Goyal, Additional Secretary in the Ministry of Home Affairs, said the Centre thinks the whole of Nagaland is in such a "disturbed and dangerous condition" that the use of armed forces in the aid of civilians is necessary and therefore, Nagaland will be a disturbed area for six months with effect from December 30.

The extension of AFSPA, however, does not infringe on the functioning of the committee set up by the Centre to look into lifting of the Act from Nagaland and other parts of Northeast.

On December 26, the Nagaland government had issued a statement saying a committee would be set up to look into lifting of AFSPA. The statement had said the committee would be headed by MHA Additional Secretary-Northeast and have Nagaland's Chief Secretary, Director General of Police, Inspector General of Assam Rifles (North) and a representative of CRPF as members.

Two days later, however, the MHA issued an order saying "in order to review AFSPA in Nagaland, a committee is constituted" with the Registrar General & Census Commissioner of India as its chairman and Nagaland Chief Secretary, DGP, Director General of Assam Rifles and Joint Director of Intelligence Bureau as members. The MHA Additional Secretary is a Member Secretary while the Director General of Military Operations is a special invitee. The MHA order had stated that the committee would review the AFSPA's application in Nagaland and make recommendations within three months.

Meanwhile, various Naga organisations registered their protest on the Centre's decision to continue with AFSPA. Naga Students' Federation viewed it as an insult to Nagas at this time of grief. "It is another attempt to rub salt to the wounds caused by the botched Army operation at Oting on December 4," the students' body said.

The Konyak (tribal) civil society organisations of Mon said the extension of AFSPA was a violation of human rights. "Declaration of AFSPA extension is a calculated move that undermines human dignity and value while the Konyaks are crying for justice. The region has been tagged disturbed when its people have denounced any form of violence."

Nagaland SIT's Army interrogation likely to continue today

Guwahati: The Nagaland government-constituted Special Investigation Team, probing the December 4 killing of civilians during and after a botched ambush by the Army at Oting in the state's Mon district, interrogated personnel of the 21 Para in connection with the incident on Thursday. The interrogation continued till late evening at the guest house of Rainforest Research Centre in Assam's Jorhat. The 21 Para is Jorhat-based. Nagaland Police and the state's home department remained tightlipped. The only senior officer who responded was Director-General of Police T John Longkumer, who said, "It's not possible for me to comment." By afternoon, all that defence sources confirmed was that the SIT arrived in the morning and interrogation is likely to continue till Friday.

Arunachal part of India, forget China claims: MEA

MAYANK SINGH @ New Delhi

INDIA on Thursday reimphasised that changing names of places in Arunachal Pradesh will not change the fact that the state is and will always be an integral part of India.

Arindam Bagchi, official spokesperson of the Ministry of External Affairs, said: "Arunachal has always been, and will always be an integral part of India. Assigning invented names to places in Arunachal does not alter this fact." He was responding to a query on reports that China has renamed some places in Arunachal in its own language. "We have seen such reports. This is not the first time China has attempted renaming places in Arunachal Pradesh. China had also sought to assign such names in April 2017." Bagchi added.

On Wednesday, two days ahead of China implementing a new border law, the Chinese government renamed 15 places of Arunachal in its map. China calls Arunachal 'South Tibet' and lays its claim over this 90,000 sq km area. China's Ministry of Civil Affairs issued a statement stating they have 'standardised' names for 15 places in Arunachal, to be used on Chinese maps. They announced Chinese characters, Tibetan and Roman alphabet names for places in Zangnan, the Chinese name for Arunachal Pradesh, state-run Global Times reported on Thursday.

Renaming places comes just two days ahead of implementing new border law which was passed on October 23 by the Standing Committee of the National People's Congress, China's top legislative body. The new law was passed citing "protection and exploitation of the country's land border areas". The committee had stated that the new law will come into effect from January 1.

The law is not meant specifically for the border with India. China shares its 22,457 km land boundary with 14 countries including India. As per law, the People's Republic of China shall set up boundary markers on all its land borders to clearly mark the border. The type of marker is to be decided in agreement with the relevant neighbouring state.

Cong govts looted Uttarakhand, says PM

Harps on 'double engine' government, urges people to be wary of 'false promises' by others

VINEET UPADHYAY @ Dehradun

DEDICATING infrastructure projects worth ₹17,500 crore to the people of Uttarakhand on Thursday, Prime Minister Narendra Modi accused 'previous governments of looting the state and doing nothing for its development, resulting in largescale migration of people. Though he did not take any names, the obvious target was the Congress.

"You have seen those people, too, who used to say that 'take anything from Uttarakhand but save my government'. They used to loot Uttarakhand with both hands," Modi said while addressing the 'Vijay Sankalp' rally at Haldwani in Nainital district. His reference was to a purported video of 2016 in which Congress leader and then CM Harish Rawat was allegedly heard negotiating a money deal to buy back rebel MLAs' support.

Stating that people of Uttarakhand had seen two streams of thought — one that wants to keep the hills deprived of development and the other that work day and night for their development — the PM said several generations of people in the villages were deprived of roads, water and other basic facilities by previous governments.

"Shouldn't such people be punished? Can one be trapped in the illusion of their false promises again?" he asked. "While I correct their mistakes, you teach them a lesson," Modi exhorted the crowd.

The PM asserted that the BJP governments at the Centre and in the state had done unprecedented development in Uttarakhand whereas other political parties "have always insulted our soldiers and deprived them of everything — one rank one pension, arms, facilities and respect".

Playing the religion card, he mentioned Kedarnath, Kashi Vishwanath and Ayodhya, linking religious tourism with generation of employment and revenue. "Biggest beneficiaries of these projects will be the people. We can see that when facilities increased in Kedarnath, the number pilgrims are breaking records"

The PM also harped on the "double engine government" saying, "new roads, railway projects, hydropower projects, tourism sector, attraction for yoga and home stay movement are making this decade the decade of Uttarakhand".

TUSSLE FOR 'SECULAR VOTES' TO DENT CONGRESS IN GOA

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @ Mumbai

EYEING the traditional secular votes of the Congress in order to make their mark in Goa politics, TMC and AAP can play spoilsport for the grand old party. As victory margins are small in Goa — around 5,000 votes in 10 constituencies and less than 500 in five, in the 2017 polls — loss of a few hundred votes in multi-corner contests can make the Congress suffer.

TMC and AAP will also divide the anti-incumbency votes that will benefit the ruling BJP, said a senior Congress leader.

As for the TMC, the latest entrant in the state's politics, a political observer said its alliance with the Maharashtrawadi Gomantak Party (MGP), which won three seats in 2017, will be a big headache for the Congress.

According to Goa-based journalist Sumit Naik, the West Bengal CM is primarily attacking the Congress and poaching its Christian legislators. "Christians, who comprise 27 per cent of the electorate, are traditionally Congress voters. If this block goes to the TMC, it will be a big loss to the Congress. On the other hand, the TMC moves will not dent the BJP's prospects," said Naik.

On its part, AAP is eyeing the same voter base that the TMC and the Congress are banking on. "TMC and AAP have no major chance at all, but they can reduce the Congress votes," said a source in the Congress, adding that many MLAs and other leaders are joining the TMC as the party is providing large funds to its candidates.

A senior Congress leader claimed people will vote for his party despite AAP's promise of "clean and non-corrupt government" and TMC's efforts because the Congress, unlike AAP and TMC, is "working on the ground".

Admitting that AAP and TMC may snatch some of the traditional votes of the Congress, former CM Digambar Kamat said the impact will be marginal. "People will not vote for parties from Delhi and Kolkata," he said.

Punjab Cong in trouble over demand for CM face

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

AFTER Uttarakhand, trouble is brewing in yet another poll-bound state for the Congress with the party's Punjab chief Navjot Singh Sidhu pushing for his name to be announced as CM candidate even as campaign committee chief Sunil Jakhar said polls would be contested under joint leadership.

The trouble in Punjab comes after the party faced a similar situation in Uttarakhand, where state in-charge Devender Yadav turned down Harish Rawat's demand to be made the CM candidate, causing a rift in the state unit.

The party said the Punjab elections would be contested under the leadership of Punjab CM Charanjit Singh Channi, and that the move is aimed at balancing caste equations in the state and preventing infighting within the party. The party is banking on leaders from prominent castes. While Channi comes from the Dalit community, Sidhu is a Jat Sikh, Jakhar is a Jat, and of the two deputy CMs, Sukhjinder Singh Randhawa is a Jat Sikh and O P Soni is a Hindu.

Insisting that the party should announce its CM face, Sidhu has been taking swipes at the Channi government on several issues. The Congress faced a massive crisis earlier this year following rebellion by state leaders, leading to the exit of Captain Amarinder Singh from the party. Singh, who has floated his own party, is contesting in alliance with the BJP.

BJP to bank on narrow margins in multi-corner Punjab fight

MANISH ANAND @ New Delhi

THE BJP appears to be gaining Sikh leaders from the ranks of the Congress and Shiromani Akali Dal (SAD) amid assessments that the urban Hindu vote base may become decisive in a few pockets in the multi-cornered contest in the upcoming Punjab elections.

While the saffron party had been a junior partner in its past alliance with the Akali Dal, the party is hopeful that its urban vote base could tilt the scale since multiple claimants for rural electorate could make victory margins narrower.

The BJP has been on a spree to induct Sikh leaders from the ranks of the Congress and Akali Dal.

"Other than the BJP-led front, there are at least three strong contenders for the rural vote base. It's given that the rural votes will split majorly, and this will give an edge to the BJP. That is indeed adding glue to the party to attract sitting MLAs and former legislators," said a party functionary.

Also, turncoats are expecting that the saffron outfit is likely to get more seats to contest this time compared to the past when it was just a junior partner of the SAD. This will improve their chances to contest on the party symbol.

Another senior BJP leader claimed political pundits are also speculating a hung Assembly due to multi-cornered contests. He said such a prospect could make the role of the governor crucial in the government formation, leading to further alignment of political forces, including desertion of legislators.

Six Jaish militants, jawan killed in twin shootouts in south Kashmir

FAYAZ WANI @ Srinagar

SIX Jaish-e-Mohammad militants and an army jawan were killed in twin gunfights in south Kashmir districts of Kulgam and Anantnag on Thursday.

Among the slain militants, two were involved in the December 13 attack on a police bus in Srinagar in which three policemen were killed.

SSP Anantnag Ashish Kumar Mishra while addressing a joint press conference said acting on inputs, a search operation was jointly launched by the police, Army and CRPF in Anantnag on Wednesday evening. "In the initial exchange of fire, three army men and a policeman were injured. They were evacuated to army hospital where Sepoy Jasbir Singh succumbed to injuries."

He said after civilians were evacuated around the encounter site, an assault was launched on militants. In the ensuing encounter which continued till early hours Thursday, three Jaish militants were killed.

The SSP identified the slain militants as Sultan alias Rayees alias Mavia, a Pakistani national; Nisar Ahmad Khanday and Altaf Ahmad Shah, both locals. He said a US-made M4 rifle and two AK-47 rifles were recovered.

IGP Kashmir Vijay Kumar said Altaf and Sultan along with another militant Suhail Rather were involved in the December 13 attack on a police bus on Srinagar outskirts in which three policemen were killed and 11 others injured.

In another overnight gunfight, in Kulgam, three Jaish militants — Mohammad Shafi Dar and Uzair Ahmad, both locals, and Pakistani militant Shahid alias Shahzaid — were killed. Shahid was among the most-wanted militants operating in J&K.

In the last five days, 11 militants have been killed in multiple operations. The IGP claimed that for the first time in over 30 years of militancy in J&K, the number of active militants has come down below 200.

"It is 180," said GoC 15 Corps Lt Gen D P Pandey. The GoC said militant recruitment is significantly down compared to the last two years.

Parties flay SIT chief's warning on encounter report

A day after the head of SIT probing the Hyderpora encounter warned politicians that speculative statements on the issue may attract penal action, Kashmir's political leaders reacted sharply, calling it an attempt to bully them into silence with such warnings.

NO PENALTY DEPOSITED BY JAIN: DGGI

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

AMID media reports and mudslinging by political parties over the seizure of huge amount of cash stashed on the Kanpur and Kannauj premises of businessman Piyush Jain during the last couple of days, the Directorate General of GST Intelligence (DGGI) issued a clarification that the cash recovered has been kept as case property in the safe custody of SBI. He denied reports that Jain had paid ₹52 crore as penalty.

Earlier there were reports that the DGGI had considered ₹177.45 crore recovered from the Kanpur premises of the businessman as business turnover and had levied ₹52 crore from him for tax evasion.

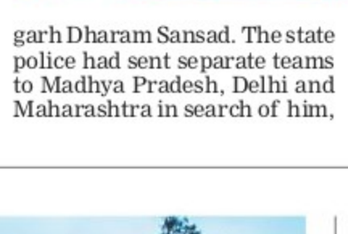
However, clearing the air on Thursday, the DGGI's release said: "It is made out as if the department has agreed with the deposition of Piyush Jain and finalised the tax liability accordingly. These reports seek to undermine the integrity of the ongoing investigations which are being carried out in a most professional manner based on specific intelligence against the party."

Seer's Mahatma slur lands him in police custody

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Raipur

THE Chhattisgarh police on Thursday arrested Hindu seer Kalicharan Maharaj from a lodge at Khajuraho in Madhya Pradesh and brought him to Raipur where a court sent him to two-day police custody for alleged hate speech.

Kalicharan had made made derogatory remarks against Mahatma Gandhi and praised his assassin Nathuram Godse on December 26, while participating in a two-day Chhattisgarh Dharam Sansad. The state police had sent separate teams to Madhya Pradesh, Delhi and Maharashtra in search of him, as he fled soon after an FIR was filed against him.



A 10-member team initially traced his location through phone tracking to Khajuraho. "The phone was later switched off but we got to know where he was holed up. He had checked into a lodge there incognito. The police team went to the place in civvies and arrested him," an officer informed.

The day's drama created political ripples with the BJP and the Congress sparring on the manner of the seer's arrest.

Officials finalising plan for rollout of e-bus services

The stage is set for the rollout of electric buses in Srinagar and the J&K administration is finalising the arrangements for conducting their trial run. Deputy Commissioner Srinagar, Mohammad Aijaz has directed the officers concerned to prepare a comprehensive plan on routes, stations and charging stations for the electric buses. The officers of line departments have been directed to place all necessary preparations for the trial run of the buses. Project for EVs in public transport, aimed at pollution-free transit system in the city, was inaugurated by former governor Satya Pal Malik in 2019.

Detention orders don't mean perpetual custody: HC

The High Court of Jammu & Kashmir and Ladakh while overturning two detention orders under the Public Safety Act (PSA) stated that preventive detention can't be used as an instrument to keep a person in perpetual custody without trial. "It is important to mention here that the detaining authority may get inputs from different agencies, but the responsibility to formulate grounds of detention exclusively rests with the former," the court said. "It is, therefore, for detaining authority to formulate grounds of detention and satisfy itself that grounds of detention so formulated warrant passing of the order of preventive detention," the court said. Justice Vinod Chatterji Koul observed, "Detention can't be made a substitute for ordinary law and absolve the authorities of their normal functions."

Women-only beach zone scrapped after outcry

Authorities in Bangladesh's main tourist resort scrapped a dedicated beach section for women and children after a social media outcry over gender segregation, officials said on Thursday. On Wednesday, Cox's Bazar officials inaugurated a section of the shoreline on the world's longest natural sea beach as an exclusive zone for women and children. But hours later, the administration issued a press release saying that it had "withdrawn its decision" after "negative comments". Abu Sufian, a senior official, told AFP the section had been created following requests from conservative women.

Convicted of recruiting and grooming young girls to be abused by Epstein and clients

Maxwell guilty of sex trafficking

Laura Menninger (L) and Jeffrey Pagliuca, defence attorneys for Ghislaine Maxwell, leave the courthouse after the verdict on Wednesday night | AP

NEW YORK

BRITISH socialite Ghislaine Maxwell was found guilty in New York on Wednesday of recruiting and grooming young girls to be sexually abused by the late American financier Jeffrey Epstein.

Maxwell may have to spend the rest of her life behind bars after the 12-person jury convicted her on five of the six counts she was facing, including the most serious charge of sex trafficking a minor.

The conviction, just days after she turned 60 on Christmas, caps a remarkable fall from grace for the Oxford-educated daughter of the late British press baron Robert Maxwell, who grew up in wealth and privilege as a friend to royalty.

She sat passively in the Manhattan courtroom, slowly removing her mask to take sips of water, after Judge Alison Nathan read out the verdicts, reached after five full days of deliberation by the jury.

Afterwards, Maxwell's attorney, Bobbi Sternheim, said her legal team was already working on an appeal and they were "confident that she will be vindicated." "We firmly believe in Ghislaine's innocence. Obviously we are very disappointed with the verdict," Sternheim told reporters outside the courthouse.

Sex trafficking of minors carries a maximum 40-year sentence. The lesser charges have terms of five or 10 years. Maxwell was found not guilty of one count—enticement of a minor to travel to engage in illegal sex acts.

Maxwell walked out of the courtroom into detention as she has done every day of the month-long trial. She was not handcuffed and will return to the Metropolitan Detention Center in Brooklyn.

No date was set for her sentencing.

US Attorney Damian Williams welcomed the verdict, saying Maxwell had been found guilty of "the worst crimes imaginable—facilitating and participating in the sexual abuse of children." AFP

PRINCE ANDREW'S TEAM HOLDS EMERGENCY MEET

Lawyers representing Prince Andrew held emergency meeting on Thursday, following the conviction of his friend Ghislaine Maxwell. The conviction is a further blow for the embattled royal, British media said on Thursday

THE LEGAL CLAIM AGAINST ANDREW

Virginia Giuffre, one of the victims of Jefferey Epstein, has launched a civil claim suing Prince Andrew for unspecified damages, alleging he sexually assaulted her when she was 17, a minor under US law

She claims she was lent out by Epstein to his powerful associates and forced to have sex with Andrew three times — the first time at Maxwell's London home

The Duke of York, the second son of Elizabeth II, has suggested the photo could have been doctored

HOW THE VERDICT AFFECTS HIM

Maxwell's conviction by a New York court does not affect Andrew's legal status but further damages his reputation, British commentators said

"To some degree, everything has changed, certainly in public perception," royal correspondent Johnny Dymond told BBC Radio 4. Since Andrew is now connected to a convicted sex trafficker and also accused by one of her alleged victims

A photo apparently showing the three together "could now be described as the sex trafficker, the sex slave and the duke," said Johnny Dymond

CLOSE LINKS TO MAXWELL, EPSTEIN

The prince told the BBC he first met Maxwell when she was university and last met her in the summer of 2019

Andrew socialised and stayed with Epstein after she introduced the pair

The prince visited Epstein's luxurious mansion in New York and residences in Palm Beach, Florida and his island in the Caribbean, flying in his private jet

Hong Kong editors charged with sedition, US criticises raid

HONG KONG

TWO senior editors of Hong Kong pro-democracy media outlet Stand News were charged with sedition and denied bail on Thursday, following a raid that drew international condemnation over China's crackdown on press freedom in the city.

China has tightened its control of Hong Kong since massive and often violent pro-democracy protests engulfed the financial hub in 2019, using a sweeping national security law to clamp down on dissent.

On Wednesday, police stormed into the Stand News office, seizing phones, computers, documents and thousands of dollars.

Acting editor-in-chief Patrick Lam and former editor-in-chief Chung Pui-kuen were arrested along with five others.

On Thursday, along with Stand News' parent company, Lam and Chung were charged with conspiring "together and with other persons, to publish and/or reproduce seditious publications", according to court documents.

Among the violations listed on the charge sheet were the promotion of "hatred or contempt or to excite disaffection" against the government and the incitement of "persons to violence". The arrests were an "act of justice", a spokesperson for the Chinese government's liaison office in Hong Kong said in a statement, accusing Stand News of inciting secession.

Both Lam and Chung were denied bail on Thursday, prompting murmurs and tears in a public gallery packed with former Stand News employees. Their case was adjourned until February 25. Four others arrested — all Stand News board members who resigned in June, including pop singer Denise Ho — were released on bail without being formally charged, according to local media.

The seventh person arrested, former Apple Daily editor Chan Pui-man, remains in custody as she is facing national security charges in a separate case.

Chung, 52, appeared in court on Thursday afternoon, nodding to acknowledge supporters.

Lam was absent from proceedings after being hospitalised, his lawyer said.

No legal representative appeared on behalf of Stand News' parent company.

In the raid on Stand News' office, more than 200 officers were deployed with court authorisation to seize journalistic materials. Its assets of around HK$61 million ($7.8 million) were also frozen. AFP

Fresh talks lined up between Putin and Biden to address situation in Ukraine

WASHINGTON

US President Joe Biden and Russia's Vladimir Putin are set to discuss the Russian troop buildup near Ukraine on Thursday during their second call in recent weeks amid little progress toward ending the smoldering crisis.

The White House indicated that Biden would make clear to Putin that a diplomatic path remains open even as the Russians have moved an estimated 1,00,000 troops toward Ukraine and Putin has stepped up his demands for security guarantees precluding NATO from expanding to Ukraine.

Those demands are to be discussed by senior US and Russian officials during talks on January 10 in Geneva.

But Biden will reiterate to Putin that for there to be "real progress" in the talks they must be conducted in "a context of de-escalation rather than escalation," according to a senior administration official who briefed reporters before the call. The call was set up on Putin's initiative, Kremlin spokesperson Dmitry Peskov said Thursday. "The goal of the conversation is clear — to continue discussing the issues that were on the agenda during the recent conversation via video conference," Peskov said.

That December 7 call focused on the Russian troop movements, which have unsettled Ukraine and other European allies, as well as Moscow's demand for guarantees. Peskov noted that since that call, Moscow has submitted its security proposals to US and European officials and now "from our point of view, from the point of view of Putin, the need has arisen for another telephone conversation, which would preface the upcoming talks."

US navy seizes $4 mn worth of heroin

Dubai: United States navy vessels seized 385 kilograms (849 pounds) of heroin in the Arabian Sea worth some $4 million, in a major bust by the international maritime operation in the region, officials said on Thursday. The USS Tempest and USS Typhoon seized the drugs hidden aboard a stateless fishing vessel plying Mideast waters, the international task force said in a statement. The seizure took place on Monday. The Navy said the fishing vessel likely came from Iran. All nine crew members identified themselves as Iranian nationals, according to Commander Timothy Hawkins, a spokesperson for the US Navy's West Asia-based 5th Fleet.

Chinese FM set to visit Lanka

Beijing: Chinese Foreign Minister Wang Yi will visit the Maldives and Sri Lanka early next month as part of Beijing's efforts to expand its influence in both the South Asian countries strategically located in the Indian Ocean. Wang will visit Eritrea, Kenya and Comoros from January 4-7 and from there he will travel to the Maldives and Sri Lanka, Chinese Foreign Ministry spokesman said. Wang's visit to Male and Colombo is regarded as significant in Beijing as China seeks to stabilise its influence in both the countries acquired through massive investments for over a decade.

Dec likely to see fall in consumer sentiment: CMIE

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

DECEMBER is likely to register a fall in consumer sentiments compared to November, which may stall the recovery of the Indian economy, according to the Centre for Monitoring Indian Economy (CMIE).

This would be the first month to record a fall in consumer sentiments since June 2021, CMIE said in its weekly labour market analysis.

"Consumer sentiments have been improving in each of the five months since July 2021. In the process, the sentiments recovered from the fall during the second wave of Covid-19 spanning April, May and June 2021," CMIE said, adding the proportion of households that believe that this is a good time to buy consumer durables is likely to end at 5.7% in the quarter ending in December 2021, which is better than the 3.8% pencilled in the quarter of September 2021, but lower than the 7.1% recorded in the quarter of December 2020.

CMIE's Consumer Sentiments Index (CSI) is a handy barometer to measure the mood of households in India, The index is based on surveys of more than 150,000 households across rural and urban regions.

Explaining the overall picture, it says the Index of Consumer Sentiments was at 56.6 in March 2021, which following the second wave of Covid-related restrictions, fell to 47.7 by June 2021.

However, it said, the recovery was quick as the index had touched 58.2 by September 2021.

"Losses of the quarter of June 2021 were recovered in the quarter of September 2021. But, the precipitous fall in sentiments suffered during the first wave of Covid-19 still remains largely uncovered."

The index rose by 2.1% in October and then by 1.2% in November 2021.

"In December, the index is seen losing ground," it said.

Textile rate tops agenda at GST Council meet

Several states, including Rajasthan, Telangana, West Bengal and Delhi, are against the 12% GST rate on textile

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

EXTENSION of GST compensation and roll back of recent GST rates hike for textile sector top the agenda of the GST (Goods and Service Tax) Council which is going to meet for the 46th time on Friday. The issue was already flagged in Finance Minister's pre-budget meeting with the state finance ministers on Thursday.

Sources said, the main agenda of the meeting will be the rate hike in textiles to correct inverted duty structure. Apart from that, the Group of Ministers constituted during last meeting will also submit its report on rate rationalisation, which includes removal of items from exemption list, checking the possibility of merging slabs and correction in inverted duty structure.

Report on rate rationalisation

The Group of Ministers constituted during last meeting will submit its report on rate rationalisation, which includes removal of items from exemption list, examining possibility of merging slabs and inverted duty structure

Tamil Nadu Finance Minister P Thiagarajan and Rajasthan Technical Education Minister Subhash Garg confirmed that the rate hike in textiles will be the main issue. "The states received the agenda just yesterday. So a very short notice, and textile seems to be the main point of discussion," Thiagarajan said.

In September, the Council decided to rectify inverted duty structure for footwear and textiles, which was raised to 12%, effective from Jan 1, 2022 from 5%. This led to protests by traders and manufacturers. Rajasthan, Telangana, West Bengal and Delhi have opposed the move. "The AAP and Delhi government under leadership of Arvind Kejriwal have been in favour of keeping the tax rates low. I will demand keeping tax on textile low in the GST Council meeting tomorrow," tweeted Manish Sisodia, minister incharge of Delhi government's finance department. Former West Bengal Finance Minister Amit Mitra also claimed that this will result in job loss of 15 million and will lead to closure of at least 1 lakh units.

FM holds pre-budget consultation with state finance ministers

New Delhi: Even as the states acknowledged the support extended by the finance ministry during Covid-19, they have asked government to extend the GST shortfall compensation beyond five years and to increase the share of Centre in its sponsored projects. Finance minister Nirmala Sitharaman on Thursday held pre-budget consultation with the state finance ministers. "The state, mostly opposition ruled, asked the centre to extend the the GST shortfall compensation for another 5 years, citing Covid 19. The matter was already settled as the proposal was ruled out in the last council meeting," a senior official present in the meeting confirmed, adding that the ministry is in no mood to reconsider it. Apart from that, states also demanded that the share of Centre in the Centre-sponsored schemes must be hiked given the situation of revenue collection. States are still to match the pre-Covid levels of revenue. States were also concerned about the sudden rise in Covid-19 cases. While they claimed to be better prepared, there was demand to take into account the current situation and to enhance spending on healthcare accordingly. While Finance minister heard all the suggestions, she also asked the state to increase capital expenditure and asked them to complete the target.

Options traders betting big on sharp move in IndiGo post EGM outcome

RAM SAHGAL @ Mumbai

PUNTERS have purchased a straddle on IndiGo options that will yield them profit whichever way the share moves after the outcome of Thursday's EGM in two days. The only rider is that the movement should be sharp for them to gain.

A straddle involves a trader buying a call and a put option simultaneously to profit from a large price movement. A call option buyer is bullish and a put option buyer is bearish.

On IndiGo, buyers are wagering on an over 9% move from ₹2,000 either way once the shareholder voting results on a resolution to amend the company's articles of association are uploaded on the company's web site. This means a trading range of ₹1,820-₹2,180. The share closed down 1.4% at ₹1,979.55 on Thursday.

The option sellers are confident that the price will stay within the 9% band so they can pocket the price or premium paid by option sellers. The options expire on Jan 27. "The option sellers have sold with adequate cushion and we'll have to wait to see whether the share moves as per the buyers' anticipation, post the EGM outcome," said Rajesh Palviya, derivatives head at Axis Securities.

Palviya expects the stock to head toward ₹2,250 within the next two months.

Rakesh Gangwal and Rahul Bhatia, promoters of Interglobe Aviation, called for the EGM to amend the company's articles of association that allows either shareholder to sell their shares to a third party without notice to one another.

Options give a buyer the right but not the obligation by paying a premium to buy or sell an underlier at a predetermined price on a preset date. However, on Indian exchanges like NSE options are cash settled, which means only the difference between the share's current market price and the buying price is exchanged.

Uncertainty over IndiGo's revenue forecast: CEO

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

AS omicron cases continue to go up, India's largest airline IndiGo feels the fast spreading Covid variant has casted uncertainty over their revenue forecast.

Ronojoy Dutta, chief executive officer of IndiGo, said that flight bookings have taken a hit due to the outbreak of the Omicron variant, which many health experts beleive may lead to a third wave.

"Domestic traffic has rebounded strongly during November and December. Omicron has caused future bookings to soften somewhat but it still remain above the September levels," Dutta said while speaking at the company's extraordinary general meeting (EGM) on Thursday.

The EGM was called by Interglobe Aviation's, the parent company of IndiGo, promoters — Rahul Bhatia and Rakesh Gangwal — to move a resolution to amend clauses in the company's articles of association. The clauses, which notes that one founder has the first right to purchase the other's shares if the latter decides to sell, led to a bitter feud between the founders who jointly holds 74.44% stake in the airline.

Result of the EGM voting would be uploaded within two working days.

Dutta also said that India's aviation industry is still showing strong signs of recovery and any fall in bookings is likely to be temporary. He assured company's shareholders that IndiGo will emerge stronger after facing nearly two years of uncertainty due to pandemic.

In the September-ended quarter of FY2022, IndiGo had reported a net loss of ₹1,435.6 compared to a loss of ₹1,194.80 crore in the corresponding quarter last year. The company's revenue from operations, however, in the second quarter doubled to ₹5,608 crore, compared to ₹2,741 crore in the same quarter last year.

Supply chain disrupted: Steel industry faces acute shortage of railway rakes

DIPAK MONDAL @ New Delhi

THE steel sector is facing acute shortage of railway rakes for transportation of steel within the country. The shortage is felt mostly in the eastern part of the country, where most steel plants are located.

Industry sources told TNIE that the problem persists for the last four weeks without any respite. The industry insiders say that the shortage of railway rakes is as high as 70%.

"Supply chain has been disrupted. The freight cost through trucks is increasing. The steel prices are also shooting up due to shortage of steel in different regions," an official from a steel manufacturer told TNIE.

Representatives of the steel industry recently raised the issue with additional secretary, ministry of steel, Rasika Chaube, who assured the industry that the government would take up the issue with Indian Railways.

Officials from Tata Steel and Jindal Steel and Power (JSPL) confirmed that the sector was indeed facing a shortage of railway rakes.

Managing director of JSPL VR Sharma told TNIE that steel production is increasing continuously but the railways' capacity to handle that cargo is not increasing at the same pace. According to Sharma, this year the production of steel is likely to go up by 15 million tonnes, and with each million tonne increase in production an additional 3 million tonne cargo of raw material is also needed to be handled.

He also said that in 2020-21, 40% of the production was exported but this year it has come down to 25%. So, the steel is being consumed internally.

"In case of exports, the transportation is point-to-point — from steel plants to ports. But in case of domestic consumption, steel goes to different parts of the country through trains," he said.

An official from Tata Steel told TNIE that railway rakes were diverted for transportation of coal to power plants, and this led to shortage of railway rakes for steel.

TNIE could not get any official response from Indian railways despite reaching out to them.

Kalpataru Power bags new order worth ₹1,560 cr

New Delhi: Kalpataru Power Transmission Ltd on Thursday informed that it has bagged new orders worth `1,560 crore. The company said the order includes those from India, Africa, CIS and South America in the power transmission business. "Kalpataru Power Transmission Limited (KPTL), a leading global EPC player in the power and infrastructure contracting sector, has secured new orders/notifications of award of ₹1,560 crore," said the company in a statement. "These orders in the T&D business reaffirm our confidence in the strong growth of this business going forward," said Manish Mohnot, MD and CEO, KPTL.

Ozonetel eyes $100 m annual recurring revenue in four years

UMA KANNAN @ Bengaluru

ON-DEMAND cloud communication services provider Ozonetel aims to reach $100 million ARR (Annual Recurring Revenue) in the next four years. The company also aims to grow its business 5X in the coming year.

The company, which recently raised $5 million in Series A from Stakeboat Capital, a private equity fund, said it will use the funding to grow its sales and marketing teams in the US, while continuing to focus on South East Asia and Middle East markets, apart from expanding its presence in India.

"Currently, we are a $10-million brand and with this infusion of capital, we are planning to reach $100 million ARR in the next four years," Chaitanya Chokkareddy, Chief Innovation Officer, Ozonetel, told TNIE.

It has been 11 years since US-headquartered Ozonetel pioneered its cloud telephony solutions in India and top brands in banking, broking, fintech, e-commerce and education are using its call centre solutions for their customer service and sales.

"We want these businesses to use our AI- based omnichannel capabilities to help transform the role of contact centres itself. We are looking at automating customer communications at every step of the customer journey and are using AI-based insights to transform how businesses use their contact centre data," Chokkareddy said.

The company has over 1,000 enterprise clients across US, India, and UAE, and its platform supports over 100,000 live agents, and has handled over 3 billion calls.

According to the Transparency Market Research report, the global cloud telephony services market is to grow at a rate of 17.2% during the forecast period from 2018 to 2026, reaching a valuation of $41,768.3 million by 2026.

"From February 2020 to June 2021, we witnessed a 100% growth in business. Earlier, this growth was driven by new-age entrepreneurial ventures, however, since the beginning of this year, we are seeing enterprises move their legacy systems to the cloud," he said.

For Ozonetel, more than 60% revenue comes from the key verticals including healthcare, education, real estate, IT/ITES, e-commerce, BFSI and retail.

"We are in the midst of expanding our workforce in both India and the US," he said. With 160 employees at present, Ozonetel plans to add 175 employees by 2022.

Govt extends GST annual return filling date till Feb 28

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

ON the request of businesses, the government has extended the deadline for businesses to file GST annual returns for 2020-21 fiscal ended March 2021 by two months till February 28.

"The due date for furnishing annual return in form GSTR-9 & self-certified reconciliation statement in form GSTR-9C for the financial year 2020-21 has been extended from 31.12.2021 to 28.02.2022," the Central Board of Indirect Taxes & Customs (CBIC) said in a late-night tweet on Wednesday.

GSTR 9 is an annual return to be filed yearly by taxpayers registered under the Goods and Services Tax (GST). It consists of details regarding the outward and inward supplies made or received under different tax heads. GSTR-9C is a statement of reconciliation between GSTR-9 and the audited annual financial statement.

Filing annual return is mandatory only for taxpayers with aggregate annual turnover above ₹2 crore while a reconciliation statement is to be furnished only by the registered persons having aggregate turnover above ₹5 crore.

KYC deadline extended

Meanwhile, the Reserve Bank of India on Thursday extended the last date for KYC (Know Your Customer) updation for bank accounts by three months to March 31 next year.

In a notification on its website, the central bank said it was extending the deadline in view of the "prevalent uncertainty due to new variant of Covid-19".

The central bank had relaxed the rules first in May last year due to the pandemic and had said banking services should not be restricted just because the KYC documents have not been updated by the customer.

Govt to start getting chip unit proposals from Jan 1

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

THE government will start receiving applications from companies for setting up of semiconductor fabs, display units from January 1, 2022, said the minister of electronics and information technology Ashwini Vaishnaw on Thursday.

To facilitate interested companies, the government also launched a semiconductor portal, which contains all the information related to the application.

"All the schemes have been notified, uploaded on the website and a portal has been prepared for receiving the applications. So January 1, 2022 onwards, we will start receiving the applications," said the minister.

While launching the portal, the minister said this is a real opportunity for all the big and small players in the semiconductor industry to set up industry in India.

Recently, the government approved a ₹76,000-crore scheme to boost semiconductor and display manufacturing in the country to make India a global hub for hi-tech production, and attract semiconductor chip makers to India.

Asked if the government expects large players such as Intel or Samsung to invest in India, the minister refused to take the name of any particular company. "Please don't ask the name of any country. Let the company file the application then we will come to know," he said.

The 76,000-crore-package is expected to bring investments of around ₹1.7 lakh crore.

Yuvraj Singh's Warrior NFT sees huge demand

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ Bengaluru

EVER since Indian celebrities joined the non-fungible token (NFT) bandwagon, the crypto world has been witnessing huge demand and NFTs are booming and becoming popular among Indians. Cricketer Yuvraj Singh is the latest celebrity to jump on to the NFT bandwagon.

Launched on December 25, 2021, Yuvraj Singh's exclusive (NFT) drop is witnessing huge demand among people bidding for the collection. Launched with the marketplace Colexion on Polygon, the collectibles include a maiden century bat of the cricketer. Since its launch, the auction has witnessed bids worth $51k.

While the digital artwork is accessible to all, only the buyer will get the digital ownership of the collection. From Amitabh Bachhan, Kamal Haasan, Salman Khan to Rohit Sharma, many celebrities have joined the NFT metaverse.

According to Dapp Radar, an analysis platform, the NFT market generated over $23 billion in trading volume in 2021, and the floor market cap for the top 100 NFT collections was at $16.7 billion.

Yuvraj Singh's fans made a decentralised authorised organisation (also known as Yuvi DAO). DAOs can be thought of as friends on the internet with a shared checking account (denominated in crypto), Colexion said.

De Kock retires from Test cricket

Quinton de Kock has announced his retirement from Test cricket with immediate effect. The announcement comes after the Proteas' first Test match against India in Centurion, where the visitors won by 113 runs. He has cited his intentions to spend more time with his growing family for the timing and reason for his relatively early retirement from the format.

ANOTHER FORTRESS FALLS

All-round effort from bowlers helps India breach Centurion, take 1-0 lead with 113-run victory

VENKATA KRISHNA B @Chennai

A YEAR that started by India breaching the Gabbatoir has ended with them planting the victory flag across the other side of Indian Ocean in Centurion. Needing six wickets for only their fourth ever win on South African soil, Virat Kohli & Co took a 1-0 series lead two overs into the second session with R Ashwin removing Kagiso Rabada and Lungi Ngidi off successive balls to hand South Africa only their third defeat in the venue. The gauged and measured celebration from the visitors after 113-run win showed how overseas victories are becoming more and more common for this side, which has already won two Tests each in their tours to Australia and England earlier this year.

When play began on Day 5 with South Africa needing 211 runs, all it needed for India was their bowlers to show the discipline. And adding to the intrigue was the pitch, which surprisingly didn't break as much as India would have wanted and was comparatively easier to bat than how it was on Day Three and Four. That said, this Indian attack is not short of match-winners. Even though the hosts got off to a good start with Dean Elgar and Temba Bavuma showing no signs of trouble, visitors did not panic.

Indian players and support staff celebrate their first win at the Centurion Park over South Africa on Thursday | TWITTER

Like it has been the case in India's domination overseas, when ever they have appeared a bit flat or desperate, they have found someone to deliver results for them. At Centurion, there was Jasprit Bumrah, just like how he was there in MCG 2018 and Lord's 2021 bowling those special deliveries. The one to Elgar was not as special as those accounted for Shaun Marsh or Ollie Robinson, he had already done that here in this Test by removing Keshav Maharaj with a yorker off the last ball of Day 4. But against a batter, who looked more and more settled, he wonderfully worked over him, by drawing him more and more close to the off-stump from around the wicket before sending in the sucker ball. India found the opening. And though Quinton de Kock did attempt to play an aggressive knock, it was a matter of time from there with Mohammed Shami, Mohammed Siraj and Ashwin completing the work to ensure India ended the year on a high.

Beginning with the Boxing Day Test in Melbourne last year, India have won five Tests overseas with the Tri-colour unfurling in Brisbane, Lord's, The Oval and now Centurion in 2021. "It's a super special year for Team India. The kind of achievements that we have gotten this year has been special. I think it will go down as one of the greatest years in Indian cricket history," vice-captain KL Rahul said. "We have worked really hard as a team for few years. We learnt a lot from the last tour. We shared our experiences with the group and we all picked up what we needed. We approached training with more intensity and we came better prepared to adapt," he added.

With the series moving on to Wanderers – a venue where India have won two Tests – it provides them a glorious opportunity to win their maiden series in the Rainbow nation. And courtesy their win in Australia and the series lead in England, the expectations have only increased with the victory in Centurion.

"The dressing room atmosphere is amazing at the moment. It is a great Test victory. No Asian team has come here and won in Centurion and (it speaks of) kind of work we have put in, in last two weeks leading up to this Test match. To go out there in the first game of the series and put up a performance like that which is a complete team performance, it makes us happy," Rahul added.

Ate everything I could post Olympics: Neeraj

FIROZ MIRZA @ Chennai

AFTER becoming India's first track and field athlete to medal at the Olympics, let alone that it was gold, javelin ace Neeraj Chopra ate everything he could lay his hands on. The result? The 24-year-old from Haryana gained around 12-13 kgs. Back to training after a long gap following the Olympic high, Neeraj has cut down a little more than five kgs in the past 22 days.

"I ate everything I wanted to after I came back from the Olympics, I did not hold back because I was controlling for so long. I had gained close to 12-13 kgs. I've been training for about 22 days now and have cut down 5.5 kgs so far and now my weight is close to the off-season weight," said the Olympic champion during a virtual interaction on Thursday.

Earlier this month, he headed to the Chula Vista Elite Training Centre in the USA. However, he admitted getting back to the training wasn't easy especially after such a long break. "The initial few days of training were hard, my body would hurt and the workouts felt very difficult. I had to put in a lot of effort. I was always physically tired but I pushed through despite being exhausted. I'm training hard now so that I can get to javelin-specific training soon."

Neeraj clinched the historic gold in Tokyo with a throw of 87.58m. Ahead of the 2020 Games, he set his personal best of 88.07 at NIS Patiala during the Indian Grand Prix 3. He is now eyeing the 90m mark. "Crossing the 90m mark will put me in the list of the world's best throwers. I am close to it and can hit the mark soon, but I don't think about too much. The gap is about 2m. It's not too less also but I don't think it's impossible because my training is good. I don't think about it much but it's a barrier that I'd like to breach this year (2022)."

So what can help him achieve the goal. "No major changes in my technique. I'll need to improve what I am already doing. I'll also look to work on explosive and core strength and speed as these factors will add up and the distance will be covered."

Bengaluru win 4-2 against Chennaiyin

ASHIM SUNAM @ Bengaluru

BENGALURU FC and Chennaiyin FC had a thing or two to prove when they met for the ISL clash at the Tilak Maidan in Vasco on Thursday. The Blues were seeking a revival after a poor start to the season, winning just one in their first eight matches. Chennaiyin were looking to score more as they headed into the game with just six goals in seven matches.

At full time, it was the Blues, who attained their objective, winning the contest 4-2 to script only their second win of the season. Cleiton Silva (39'), Alan Costa (43') Udanta Singh (70') and Pratik Chowdhary (74') scored for Bengaluru while Mirlan Murzaev (4') and Rahim Ali (49') found the back of the net for Chennaiyin. For the latter, poor goalkeeping errors from Vishal Kaith did not help their cause either.

It was quite evident that the Chennaiyin players were eager to start the contest well, and it just took them four minutes to take the lead. Murzaev dribbled easily past a couple of players before slotting the home goal from close range. If that goal increased Chennaiyin's confidence, it was the opposite for Bengaluru, who were all over the place in the first 20 minutes -- mispasses, losing the balls easily.

With BFC playing quite poorly, it was quite a surprise that Chennaiyin did not double their lead despite a couple of chances. Bengaluru coach Marco Pezzaiuoli decided to make an early change, bringing on an attacking player Udanta Singh for Ajith Kamaraj, a defender in the 26th minute.

Housing is no more just a dream for the poor in UP

The basic needs of food, cloth and shelter have remained a mirage for lakhs of people for decades. At every change of government people hoped that those in the power would take actions to ensure availability of means to fulfill these needs. However, such an action from the governments remained elusive.

This hopelessness and gloom were wiped away by the Yogi Adityanath government which ensured availability of food even for the poorest and most marginalized and went on to arrange houses for the deprived. The government achieved major success in allotting dwelling units to the homeless by constructing 26.15 lakh houses under the Pradhan Mantri Awas Yojana-Gramin. Similarly, 1,08,495 houses have been provided to the homeless poor under the Mukhyamantri Awas Yojana-Gramin. The beneficiaries of these schemes include the most neglected and poor Vantangia and Musahar communities as 42,094 houses were given to the members of the Musahar community and 4,822 houses were provided to Vantangia people. The Yogi government also took care of the lepers excommunicated by the society and provided to them 3,686 houses. Inclusion of Saharia and Kol tribes in the eligible categories under the Mukhyamantri Awas Yojana-Gramin has expanded the scope of benefitting the poor from housing. As many as 2,881 houses have been provided to the poor fishermen too. For them, an integrated township with the facility of parks, electricity, roads, sewerage, cowshed, drinking water supply and pollution-free gas cylinder has been developed in Kumbhi block of Lakhimpur Kheri district. In fact, an experiment was conducted in Londonpur Grunt village of Lakhimpur Kheri, in which a model was developed by converging 30 schemes of 10 departments, providing free housing to 26 scheduled caste and landless families, along with arrangement of electricity, gas connection, park, cowshed etc. Enthused by its success, the Chief Minister has directed to implement this model in the entire state.

Similarly, 17,02,987 houses have been provided to the urban poor under Pradhan Mantri Awas Yojana-Urban. Housing for all scheme has been introduced in urban areas, under which a light house project has been started. As many as 1,040 affordable and sustainable houses are being constructed in Lucknow under the project.

- 26.15 lakh houses allotted under the Pradhan Mantri Awas Yojana-Rural, besides 1,08,495 houses allotted under the Chief Minister Awas Yojana-Rural
- 42,094 houses allotted to the members of Musahar community, 4,822 houses to Vantangia community and 3,686 houses to leprosy-affected families
- 17,02, 987 houses constructed so far under the Pradhan Mantri Awas Yojana-Urban
- 1040 sustainable and affordable houses being built under light house project in Lucknow under the 'Housing for All' scheme. Estimated cost of the project is Rs. 131 crore
- The proposal for amendment in the guidelines of Chief Minister Housing Scheme-Rural approved by the cabinet
- Saharia, Kol and Tharu communities included in the eligibility criteria under the Mukhyamantri Awas Yojana-Rural
- 2,881 houses alloted to poor fishermen

Housing for government staff

The state government has been equally conscious about the need for the government offices and housing for the employees. It initiated a number of such projects in different districts. The Public Works Department is constructing 88 government buildings costing more than Rs 50.00 crore on EPC mode. These include 18 buildings for the Labor Department, 15 of the Medical Education Department, three of Minorities and Waqf Department, 22 of the Home Department, 7 buildings for Department of Prisons, four buildings for the Department of Higher Education, six for the Department of Justice and one each for the Department of Secondary Education, Department of AYUSH, Department of Livestock, Department of Sports and the Department of Urban Development. Another three buildings are being constructed fior the Medical and Health Department of Uttar Pradesh while one building each is being constructed for the State Disaster Management Authority, Revenue Department, Housing and Urban Planning Department, Election Department and Charity Department.

15 crore people to get free ration till Holi

The UP government's resolve that no one in the state should have to sleep hungry shall continue to rear the poor families till the Holi next year. Initially the government had resolved to ensure availability of food grains to the poor during the Covid-induced lockdown that had threatened to push the poor on the verge of hunger-deaths. Not letting such an adverse situation practically arise, the Yogi Adityanath government started providing food grains and other essentials to the poor. As the lockdown and resultant downturn in economic activities continued, the government in the state as well as the centre continued the scheme to support the economically weaker classes. Later, the Chief Minister announced on the day of Deepotsav in Ayodhya, on November 3, 2021, that even after the return of normalcy, facilities of free ration etc. to the poor would be continued by the state government till the next Holi i.e. March 2022. Under this free ration distribution to the poor, rice or wheat is given along with one kg pulses, one litre edible oil, one kg salt and one kg sugar to the Antyodaya card holders and eligible Grihasthi card holders.

Meanwhile, the Central Government has also extended the distribution of free ration through the Pradhan Mantri Garib Kalyan Anna Yojana from November 30, 2021 to March 31, 2022. All the eligible card holders of the state will get benefit of both the state and central schemes.

It may be mentioned that under the Pradhan Mantri Garib Kalyan Anna Yojana 88.42 lakh metric tonnes of food grains and 2.69 lakh metric tonnes of gram had been given free of cost to the eligible ration card holders till November 15. Apart from this, 11,888.657 metric tonnes of food grains and 1,060.49 metric tonnes of gram had been distributed under the Atmanirbhar Bharat Yojana. There are 13.41 crore units of eligible Grihasthi cards and 1.30 crore units of Antyodaya ration cards in Uttar Pradesh. Thus, Accordingly, about 15 crore people of the state are getting free food grains. Under the Pradhan Mantri Garib Kalyan Anna Yojana, 15 crore people were distributed five kilos of additional free ration per month till November 2021. State government also distributed 35 kg ration per card and 5 kg black gram per unit to these 15 crore people for three months.

Five kg. of free food grains per unit will be available till March 2022

In this scheme started in the year 2020, free ration was distributed for eight months. New ration cards were given to those who had no ration cards. Alternative arrangements were also made to avoid any kind of problem. During the Corona period, ration was delivered to the helpless people at their homes. Later, when the second wave of the pandemic started affecting normal life, the state government immediately swung into action and ensured distribution of food grains on time.

Another important step taken during this free distribution was installation of e-POS machines at all fair price shops to prevent corrupt practices and making the distribution process transparent. Along with this, the data of all 79,550 fair rate ration shops was digitized. Also, ration card portability was implemented in the entire state. This has enabled ration card holders of the state get ration at any other place in the country. Similarly, ration card holder of any other state can get food grains in Uttar Pradesh.

Employment opportunities make the youth happy

Uttar Pradesh was among the states worst hit by unemployment when Chief Minister Yogi Adityanath took over the reins of the state in 2017. Employment avenues in the state were limited and dried up due to unfair practices as well as unwillingness or unimaginative approach of the government towards tackling the problem. The biggest challenge before the Yogi government was to provide employment to the unemployed. Taking the bull by horn, the Yogi government took initiatives to create employment opportunities in the government and private sector in the state. As far as the government jobs are concerned, more than 4.5 lakh youth have got jobs during the Yogi Adityanath regime so far. They got these jobs in a fair and transparent manner. Of these, 1.5 lakh jobs were given in the education department and about three lakh in other departments. In stark contrast to the past, none of these appointments were affected by the malaise of casteism, nepotism, bribery or litigation.

MSME emerges as a force

The jobs in the government sector are the proverbial tip of the iceberg as crores of people have got jobs in the MSME sector in the state. The forceful emergence of the MSME sector under the Yogi Adityanath government, has been one of the major highlight of the state's economic achievements in the past four and a half years. Among all the states in the country, Uttar Pradesh has emerged as the state providing maximum number of employment through MSME sector.

14 percent of the country's MSME units in UP

UP ranks first in terms of MSME units. There are 90 lakh registered MSME units in the state that is 14.20 percent of the total registered units in the country. Just as the larger industries and investors, the MSME units in the state are given all types of NOCs and other services through the Nivesh Mitra portal within 72 hours of applying. These units are also given 1,000 days to comply with the laid down regulations. Besides this procedural impetus to setting up MSME units, the government also extended financial assistance to promote this segment of industries. In the year 2020-21, loans worth Rs. 73,765 crore were disbursed to these units. In the financial year 2020-21 itself, more than 63 lakh people were given employment through various schemes by giving loans to 34,80,596 new MSME units.

MSME exports up by 38 percent

Micro, small and medium industries in Uttar Pradesh have registered a growth of 38 per cent in exports as the government has given them a platform on e-commerce websites. Due to this, the export of MSMEs from the state has increased by 38 percent.

The government has also taken steps to improve skills of the craftsmen in the state. Arrangements were made with major e-commerce sites for sales of ODOP products. Now 11,296 ODOP products of UP are being sold on different platforms.

Defence Industrial Corridor brings employment

Lakhs of employment opportunities are being created through the Defence Industrial Corridor being established at six nodes in the state. Two nodes of this corridor are in Bundelkhand region that is being given better connectivity option through the Bundelkhand expressway. Around five lakh people are expected to be employed in different activities in the Defense Industrial Corridor alone. Along with this, thousands of employment opportunities have also been created in the field of electronic manufacturing.

As far as government jobs are concerned, following the rules of fairness and transparency, the process of appointment of 58,189 Panchayat Sahayaks is underway. So far 55,765 candidates have been selected. Apart from this, recruitment of 53,000 Anganwadi and Mini Anganwadi workers and assistants is also being done. The application process has been completed for the posts of Anganwadi /Mini Anganwadi Workers and Assistants in 75 districts of Uttar Pradesh. Recruitment of Anganwadi workers has reopened in the state after 10 years.

Counseling helped youth gain jobs

The Employment department of the state government started career counseling program during the period affected by the Covid-19 pandemic. It has proven to be a boon for the youth. Through 9,929 career counseling programs, 11,15,553 youth got guidance on employment opportunities.

- Uttar Pradesh became the second largest economy of the country, doubled the per capita income.
- Uttar Pradesh ranks second in the country in the Ease of Doing Business ranking.
- Based on the report of the Center for Monitoring Indian Economy, the unemployment rate in state was as low as 4.1 % in March 2021 whereas it was 17.5% in the year 2017.
- UP is a leader in the country in the establishment of micro, small and medium industries. At present, about 90 lakh MSME units are working in the state.
